

CARDINAL

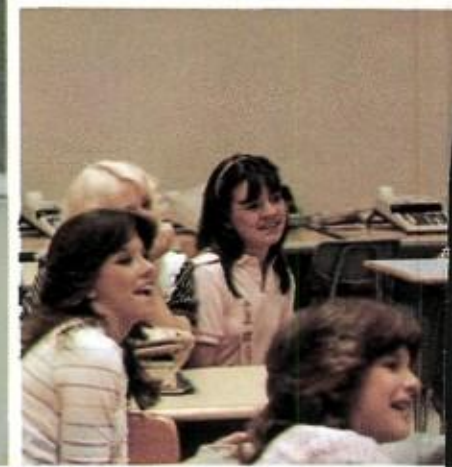

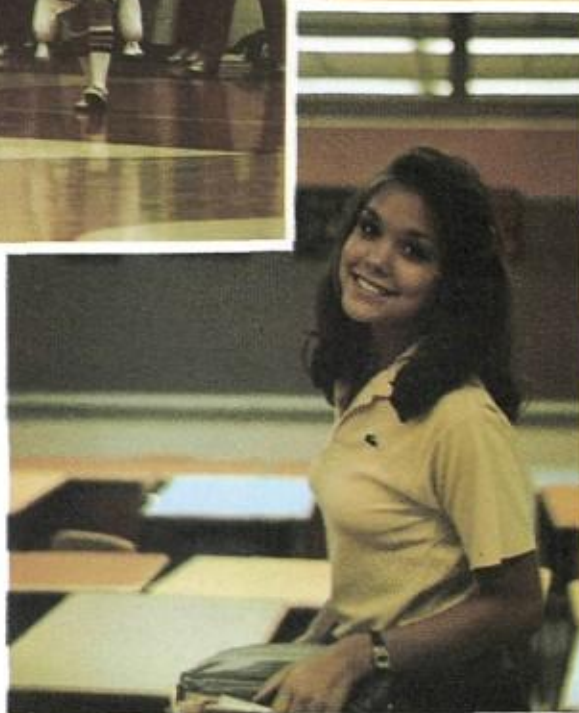

FAME

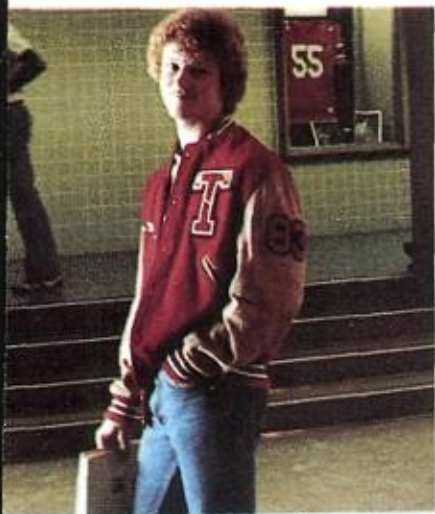

Seeking fame or searching for an identity, for most, is a life long process. Students express themselves in many different ways. Some seek recognition as "preppies" and others as athletes. People get the attention that they want with a variety of approaches, in this way seniors show their individuality, and their true identity comes through. But, Cardinals are always "pushing" for Fame.

Pushing For Cardinal Fame East Central High School Tulsa, Oklahoma, 1983 Volume Seventeen

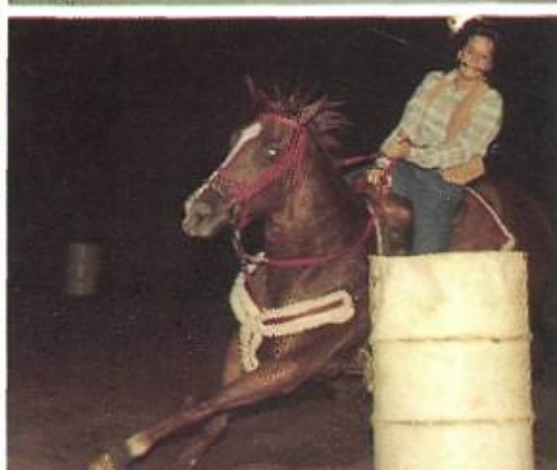

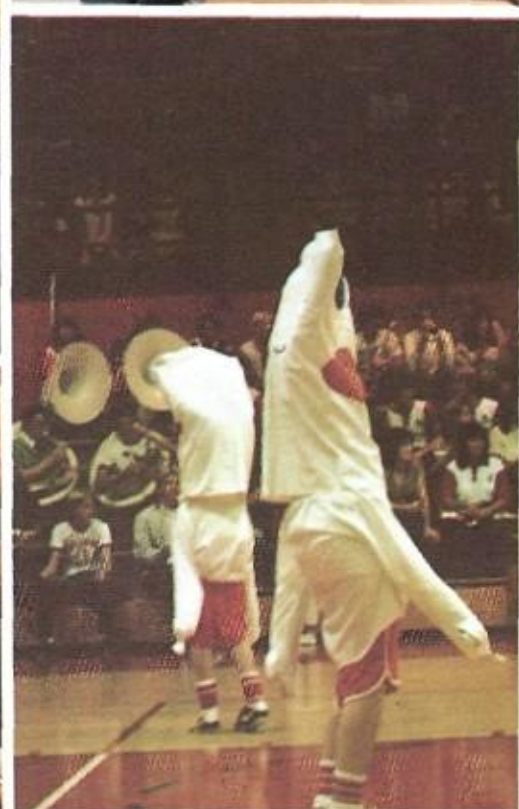

"Baby, look at me and tell me . . .

"Baby look at me and tell me what you see." What could better describe some people's absolute desire to gain attention? As shown here by the hokey-pokey dancers, studs in the round, Miss East Central finalists, and Miss rodeo rider herself. All of this is done to pursue a glorious and well known title. As they say "history repeats itself." It seems there will always be that certain Cardinal continually striving for "Fame."

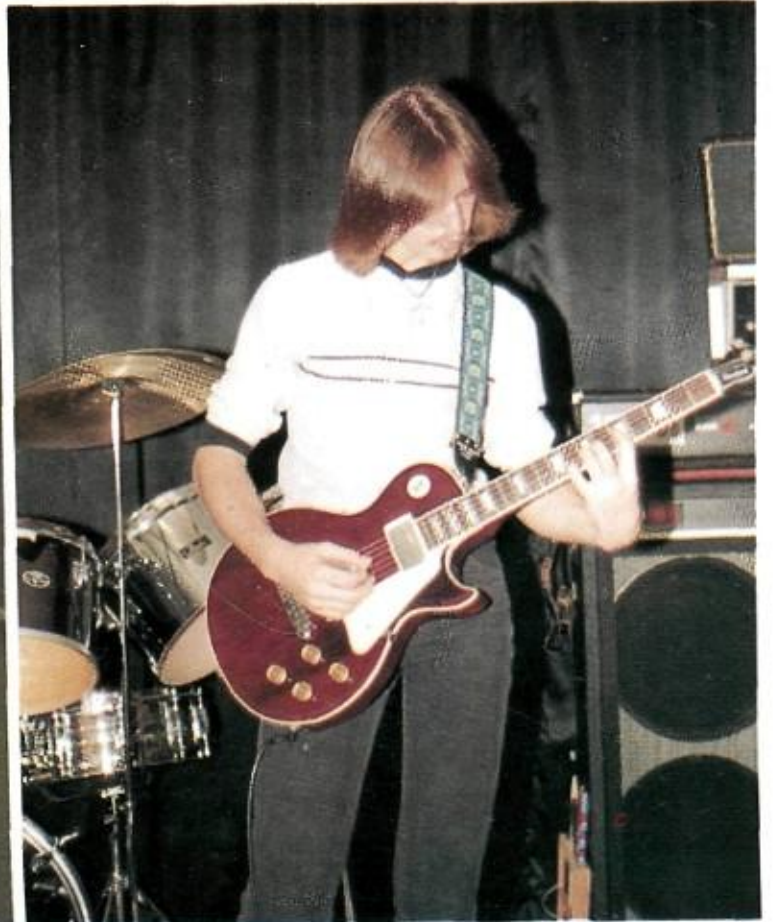

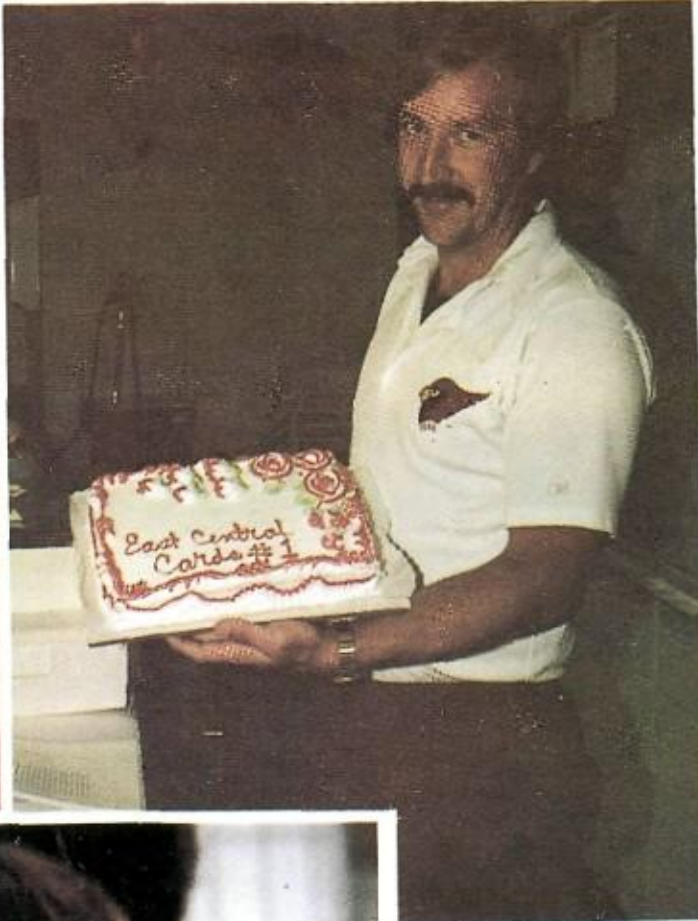

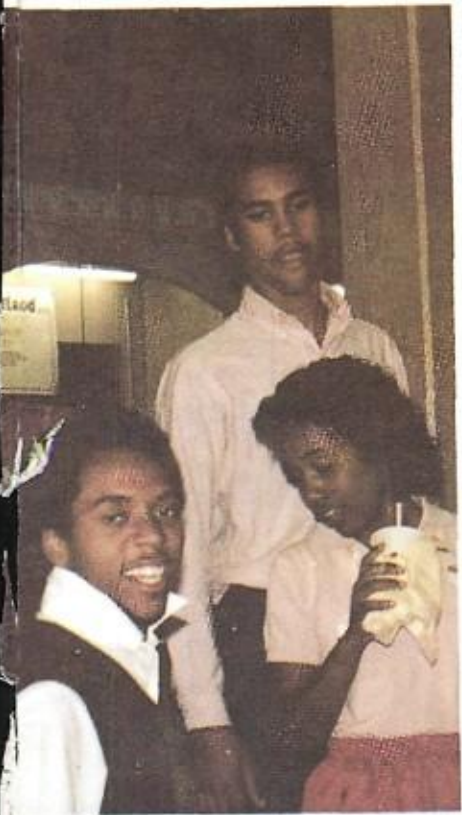

... what you see"

"You haven't seen the best ...

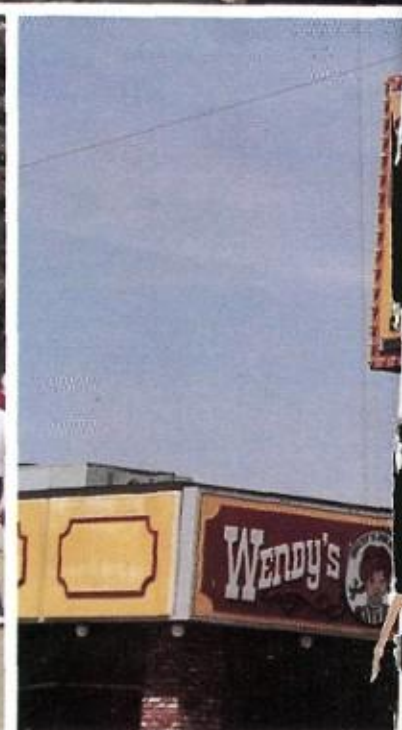

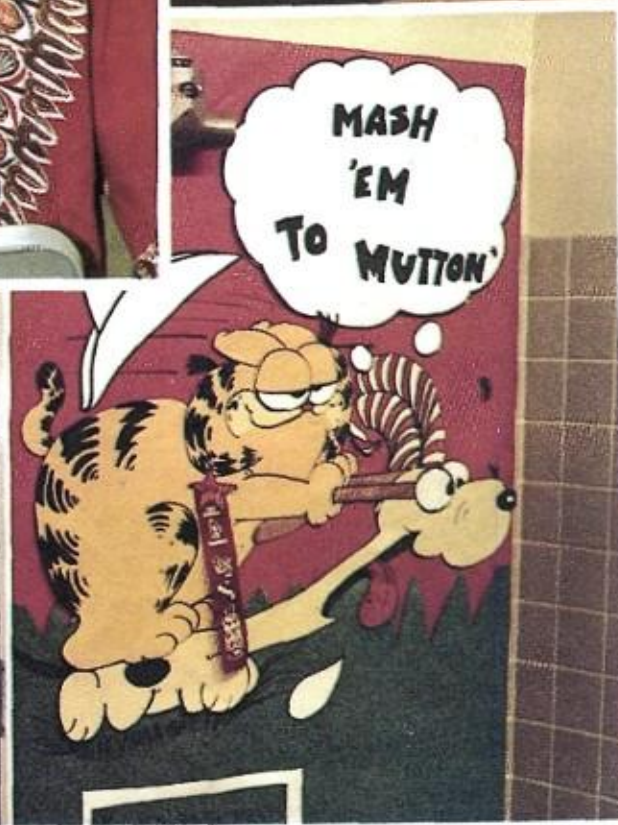

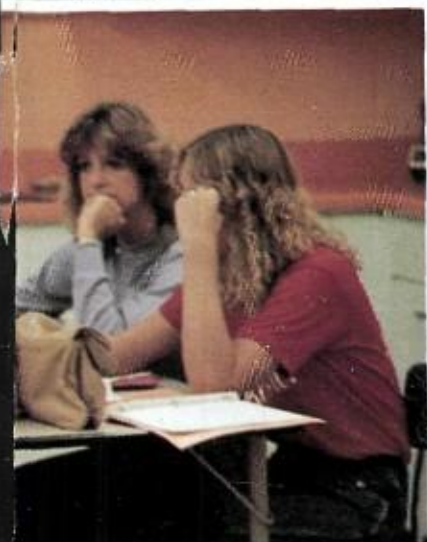

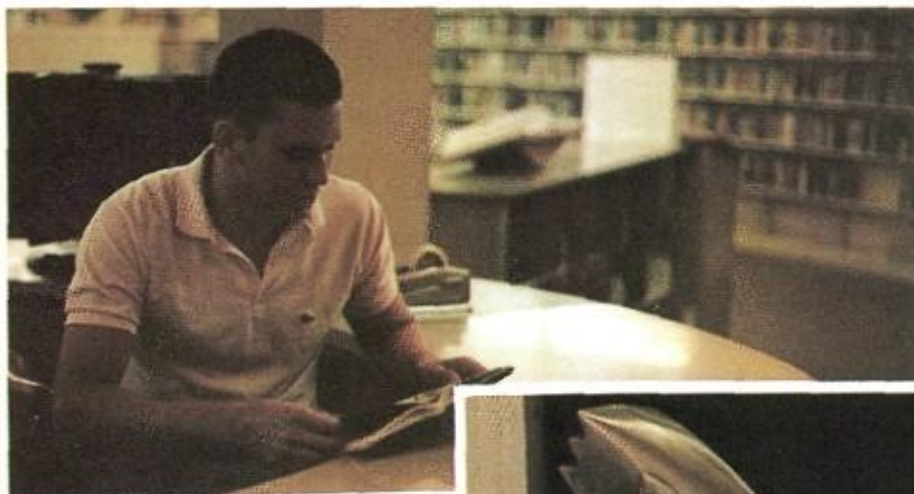

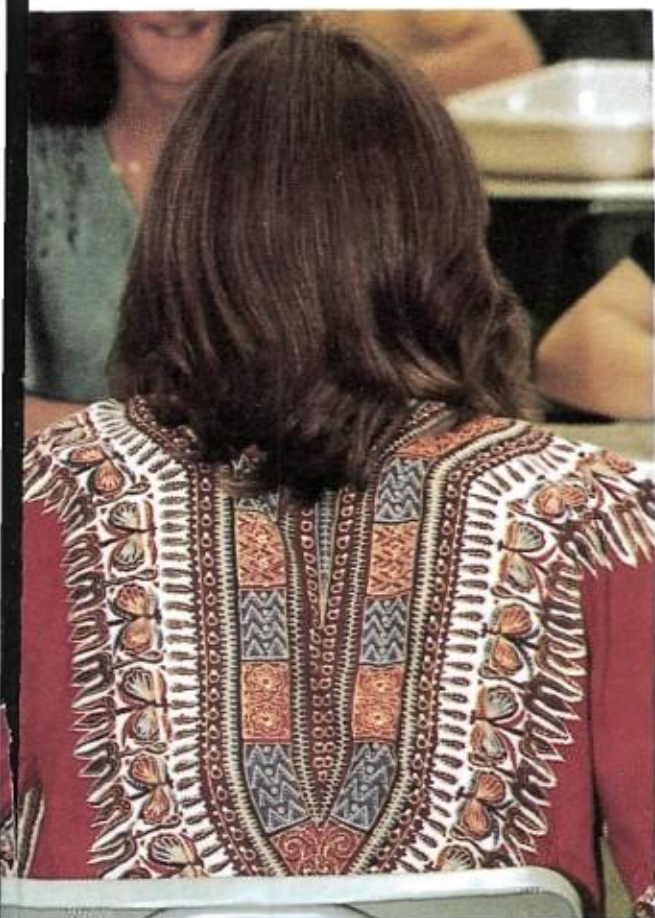

Students work to achieve recognition or fame not only for themselves, but for others, always striving to do better. Though they may stumble, they pick themselves up and work just that much harder towards achieving their goals in life. These students are working to become the kind of people who will take a place in the greater society as responsible and creative individuals. These efforts could one day be responsible for future fame.

... of me yet"

Seniors find fame more easily than others. After all, they've had more time to "develop" their individual reputations or "claims" to fame. Whether it's seeking attention with loud and obnoxious clothing, designing school-spirited door decorations, being the class clown, selling M & M's in foods class or falling out of line at practice, seniors manage to attract a tremendous amount of attention. The class of 1983 may end up hanging from a tree, but one thing is for sure they will be saying, "look at me."

"I can catch the moon in my hands ..."

There will come a time when the chains of our lives will be torn by the courage of our dreams, that were so long denied. They can now flourish as we unveil our true identities, a time when one can see a life is really worthwhile. The thorns we endure as we pass through every ordeal, will help prepare us for a new world of shining hope and long desired fame. The many forms that fame can take often find a place in our lives, real or imagined.

This year, being a senior Cardinal, was a very proud and famous title, worn by the class of '83 with sincere dignity. They showed what being a true Cardinal really meant. Whether on or off the field, they strived to meet their goals, always facing a new obstacle to overcome, continually coming through with flying colors, making many decisions, not always sure of the outcome and knowing that some day these activities could affect the rest of their lives.

With commencement exercises held May 26, at the Oral Roberts Mabee Center, our famous senior Cardinals took flight in graduation gowns. In a more solemn moment, seniors and their families attended the vespers service in the E. C. auditorium May 22. Having sold cook-books as their primary fund raiser, Seniors "cooked up" an excellent prom, held May 13 at the Camelot Inn. May the class of 1983 and its famous members live forever.

... Forever ...

Fame seems most obvious when its holders are under the "red light". Whether for beauty, talent, personality or ability, fame seeks out those who possess these qualities and pushes them to the forefront. Students, like most people, enjoy their heroes and heroines. These fame seekers often serve as standards for others to measure themselves by. Whether its a crown or a football helmet that tops our reputations, fame finds a way to find the very best in all of us.

In Dedication To . . .

Mr. George W. White

History Instructor Makes History Of His Own

by Judith Holt

A visionary, draped in patriotic colors and sincere devotion to his family, country and God, Mr. George Wesley White, has extended his strong, faithful and exemplary philosophies of life into several important arenas of service.

Quality as well as quantity has accompanied George White's many faceted life careers. With 36 years of military service, he expressed his patriotic zeal through the instruction of military subjects over all but three of those years. With the last two decades of his teaching efforts being made in the Tulsa Public Schools, Mr. White continued his military instruction in fifteen of these years, consecutively. Classrooms of students in Madison Junior, Webster and East Central High Schools have all been witness to his interesting and enlightening history lessons. He has always believed in his responsibility as a teacher to make an "all-out effort to provide favorable guidance to young students." As if his devotions had not encompassed enough of humanity already, Mr. White has also played the part of husband to his German war bride, Ursula, for 37 years, and father to his son, Stephen, for 34.

Born April 25, 1921 to Wesley and Nellie White in Shamrock, Oklahoma, this son of an oil field roustabout and eventual engineer, was one of four sons. At Shamrock High School, George wrote a column for the school newspaper called "Jis Nasin' Round", acted in two school plays, was senior class historian and reached All-state as the baseball team shortstop. He stayed another year at Shamrock High after graduation in 1938 to take post-graduate courses in shorthand, typing and bookkeeping, something unheard of with today's penchant for "permits to leave school."

Enrolled in Tulsa Business College, George came to Tulsa in 1940, to study commercial subjects including English and public speaking. Before enlisting in the U.S. Army two years later, George worked as a Purchasing Department secretary at Wilcox Oil and Gas Company.

At Camp Edwards, Massachusetts, George found himself serving as secretary to the Chief of Surgical Service, 304th Station Hospital. George followed the 304th to Wales before joining the Infantry O.C.S. in Fontainebleau, France. In a matter of three months, he received a commission as 2nd Lieutenant, assigned to the 143rd Infantry Regiment, 36th Infantry Division, then located at Geppingen, Germany. There he was assigned as Assistant Regimental Personnel Officer and baseball team manager. (The military appreciated George's baseball prowess; he served as catcher for the U.S. Army team that won the Berlin District Championship in 1947.)

In September of 1945, George volunteered for service in Berlin, Germany as a Commissary Sales Officer, where one month later he met Ursula Kaminski in a photo studio. She lived in the Russian sector of Berlin, but worked in the American Red Cross Club in the American sector. They began dating, and George would visit her and her mother. The Russians observed him visiting in Ursula's home in the uniform of an American army officer. Consequently, she was arrested twice by the Russian Secret Police and accused of being an American spy. The Russians even attempted to recruit her for their organization. They were married in the American Church of Berlin in 1956. Their son, Stephen Gerald was born in Berlin in May of 1948, only two weeks before the Russians imposed the blockade of Berlin and the great Airlift began. As pictured, George bought his first automobile, a 1938 Buick Roadmaster convertible four-door sedan, from an American Air Force major who had shipped it to Berlin. Ursula and Stephen departed for America in December of 1948, but George remained behind, not to join them for 15 more months. (Steve graduated in the first class of the present East Central High in 1966.)

Remaining in Berlin in the Department of Army Civilian, after being separated from the military service in February of 1947 to June of 1948, he was assigned Administrative Officer, Armed Forces Division, Office of Military Government for Germany (U.S.).

In January of 1949, he returned to Tulsa and was employed by Sinclair Oil and Gas Company as a land clerk. In the meantime serving as platoon leader in Company A, 120th Engineer Combat Battalion, 45th Infantry Division of the Oklahoma National Guard. With the outbreak of the Korean Conflict in August of 1950, the division was federalized at Camp Polk, Louisiana, while George attended the Engineer Officers Associate Basic Course at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

In March, 1951, George White was made Commanding Officer, H. & S. Company, 120th Engineer Combat Battalion where the 45th Division was stationed, while undergoing advanced training. In Hokkaido, Japan. On November 17, 1951, his battalion was sent to Korea. Four months later he received a promotion to Captain and then served as Assistant S-2 and Assistant S-3, as well as battalion historian.

In April of 1952, George began attending the University of Tulsa full time, majoring in Political Science and History. He began working in the Land Department of Amerada Petroleum Corporation three years later, while attending night school at T.U. and receiving a B.A. Degree as well as completing 44 hours of Law School by June of 1956. He became the Commanding Officer, Hq. Co., 3rd Battalion, 45th Infantry Division of the Oklahoma National Guard, subsequently attending the Associate Company Officers Course at Fort Benning, Georgia, and eventually serving as Battalion S-2.

Transferred to the United States Army Reserve in July 1955, George became a member of the 466th Civil Affairs/Military Government Company in Tulsa as S-3. He helped activate the Special Forces Unit now located in Tulsa in March 1959 and remained with the unit four years, having served in the capacity of Executive Officer and as acting commander while the regularly assigned Commanding Officer was attending various army schools.

George took employment with Sunray DX Oil Company as a Real Estate Representative in February of 1961, traveling over the states of Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi. He qualified now in both the Infantry Career Officers Course and CGGS; although he is airborne qualified, he is not Special Forces qualified.

Resigning from Sunray in 1962, George returned to the University of Tulsa for one semester and in September of 1963 began teaching in the Tulsa Public Schools. George continued to play the roles of both student and teacher as he attended the Logistics Course of the 4156 U.S. Army Reserve School in Tulsa, while teaching public school courses in Economics, Government, U.S. History, Oklahoma History, World History, English and Geography.

In November of 1967, George was assigned as Commanding Officer of Company D, 12th Special Forces Group (Airborne) in Tulsa, later designated as Second Battalion of the 12th Special Forces Group (Airborne). He attended the Special Forces Officers Course at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, qualifying him as a full fledged "Green Beret." During his tenure as Commander of Special Forces, the unit in conjunction with other subordinate units of the 12th Special Forces Group, conducted maneuvers at Fort Bragg, as well as desert training in New Mexico, and Fort Bliss, Texas, unconventional warfare training in the upper peninsula of Michigan, Fort McCoy, Wisconsin and Fort Sill, Oklahoma. They established their home training area at Fort Chaffee, Arkansas.

George became a military instructor at the Sheridan Village U.S. Army Reserve School in Tulsa in September 1971. There, at the National Defense University, he taught courses designed to up-date and augment U.S. Army reserve officers' military proficiency. On April 22, 1978, George White ended a long and dedicated military career, retiring with the rank of Colonel.

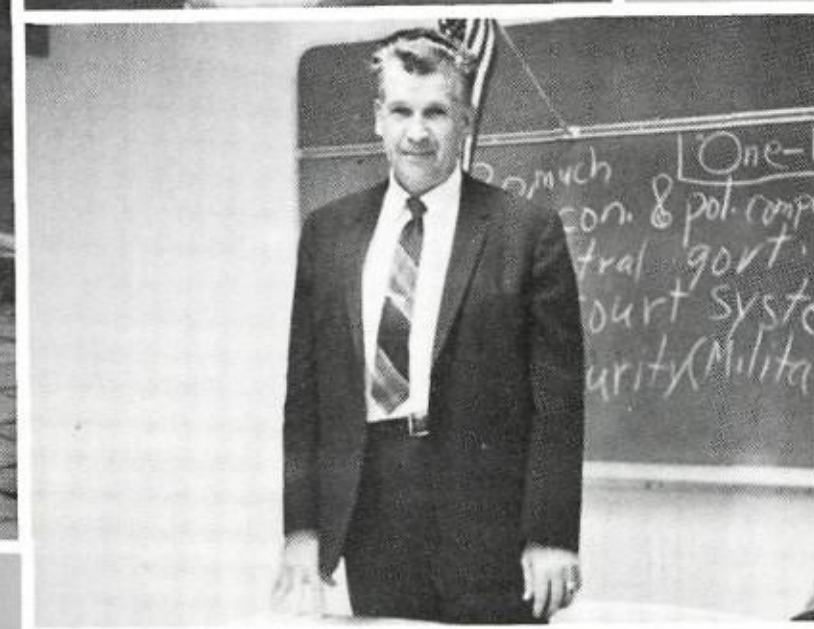

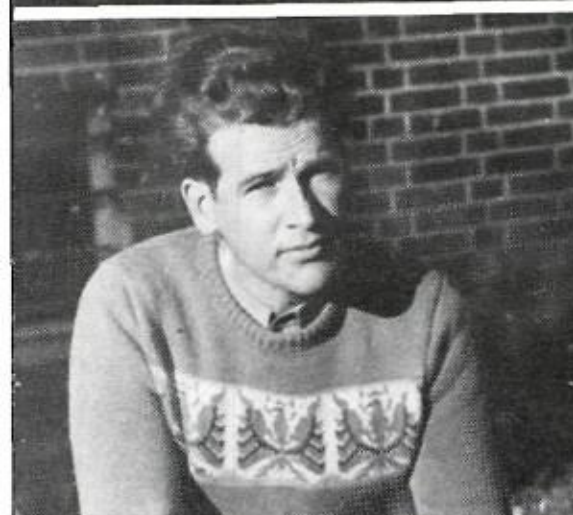

Mr. White has made some exciting future plans. After retirement from his 20 years of public school instruction in July of this year, he intends to, "travel the world as much as possible." With hobbies ranging from reading, jogging, and watching "selected television programs," Mr. White will no doubt fill his retirement years with as many exciting endeavors as he has his long and illustrious careers.

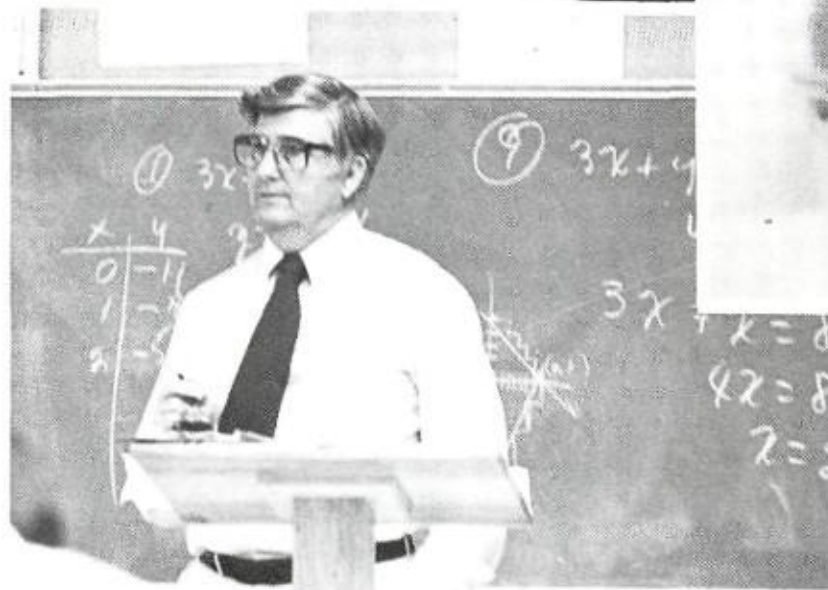

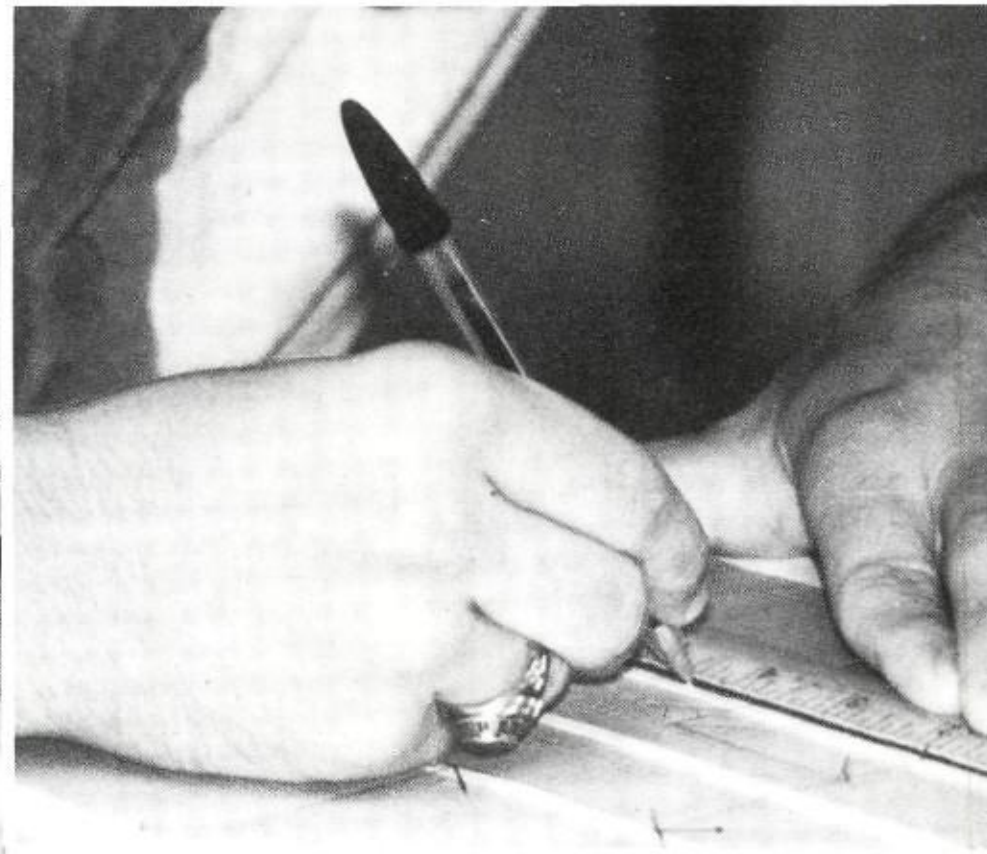

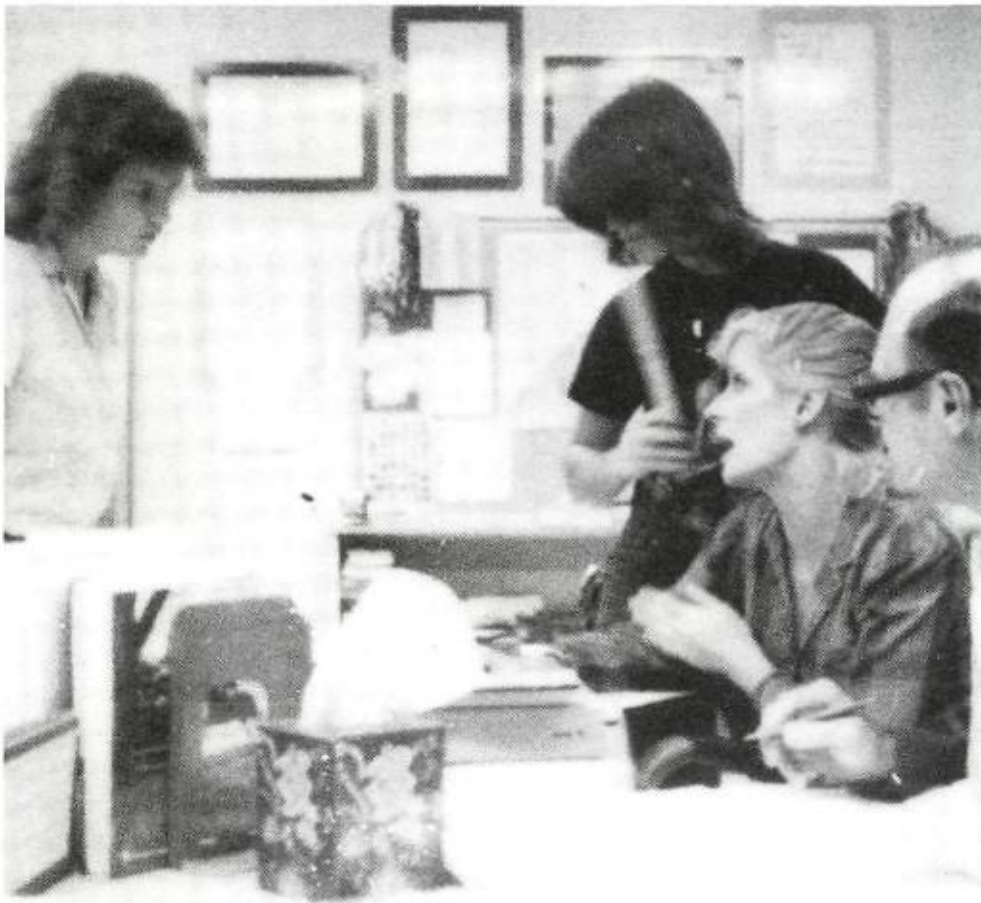

Noble warriors in many arenas have fought life's battles, but their deeds can outlive them through example long after. As Caxton, The English author, wrote in his original preface to "Le Morte D'Arthur" (Legends of King Arthur): "I according to my copy have done set it in imprint, to the intent that noble men may see and learn the noble acts of chivalry, the gentle and virtuous deeds that some knights used in those days . . . Wherein they shall find many joyous and pleasant histories, and noble and renowned acts of humanity, gentleness and chivalries . . . Do after the good and leave the evil, and it shall bring you to good fame and renown."

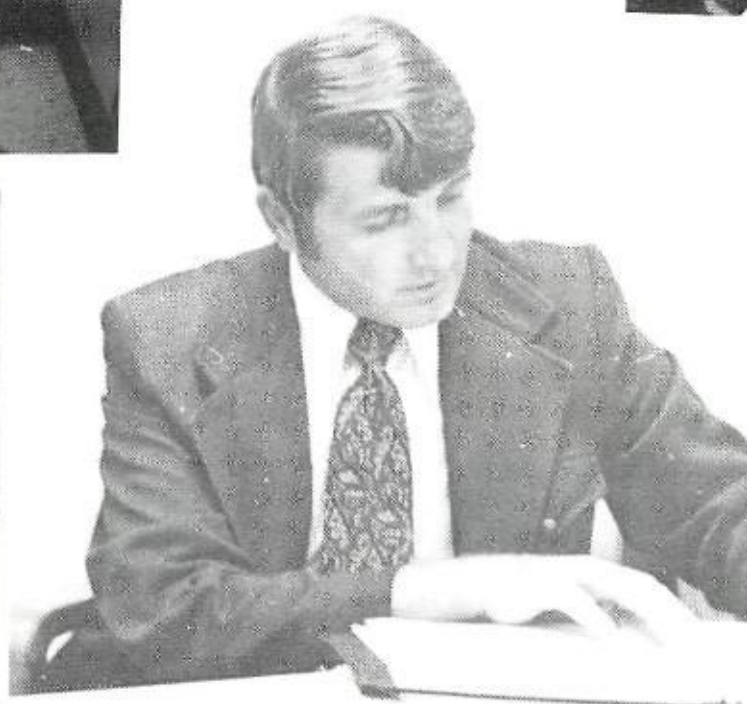

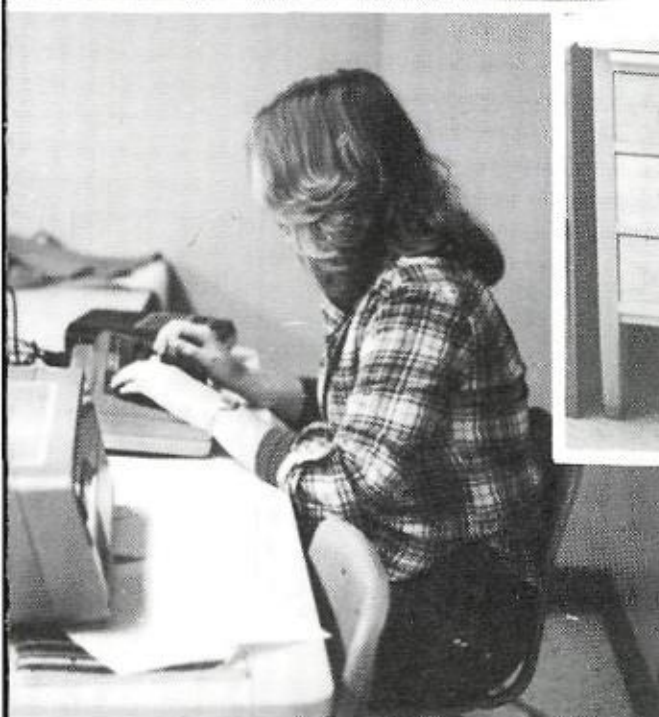

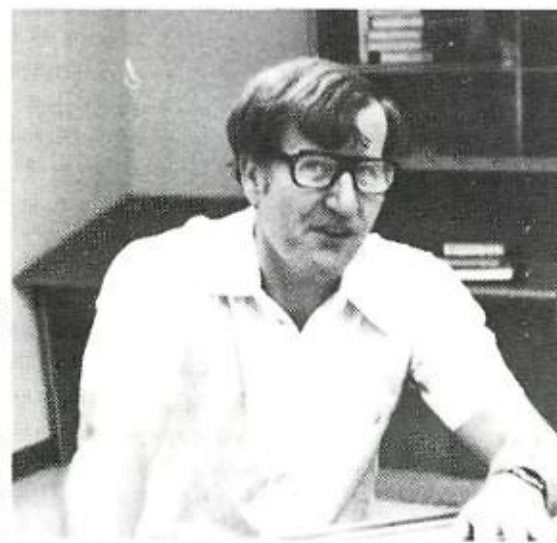

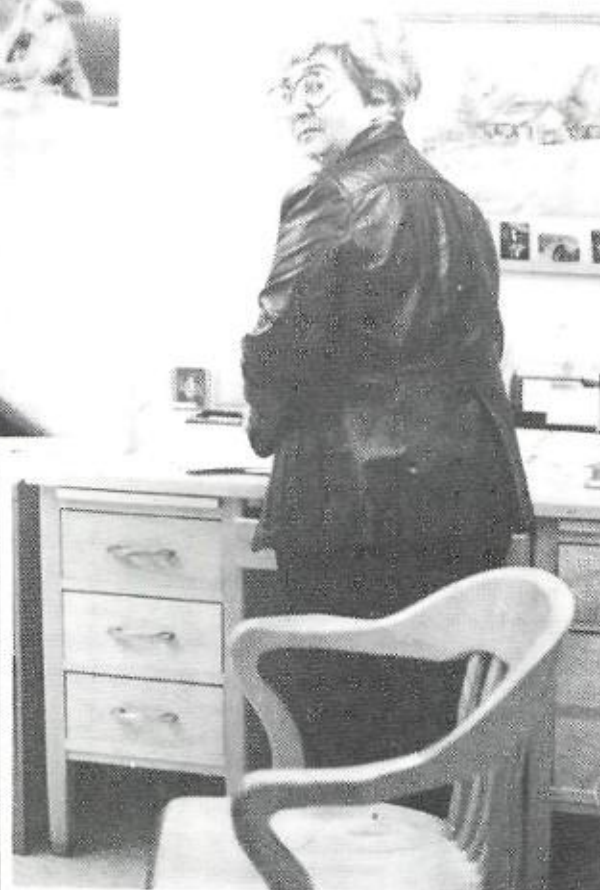

We, the 1983 yearbook staff of East Central High School, join all of Mr. George Wesley White's ardent admirers in saying, "you have Cardinal Fame."

"PATRIOTISM, DUTY, COURAGE, HONOR — these are the watchwords of American history. Yet, how sad that today so many Americans think them "out of fashion." It is rare now to know a citizen who personified these words, not simply in his thoughts but also in his daily actions. Mr. White through his years at East Central as a teacher, has inspired so many students with love of history and love of country. Everyone in our school owes him the greatest respect as a man and as a teacher. When he leaves our midst, East Central will have lost a part of the American heritage. All of us wish him well!"

— Mr. Robert Owen

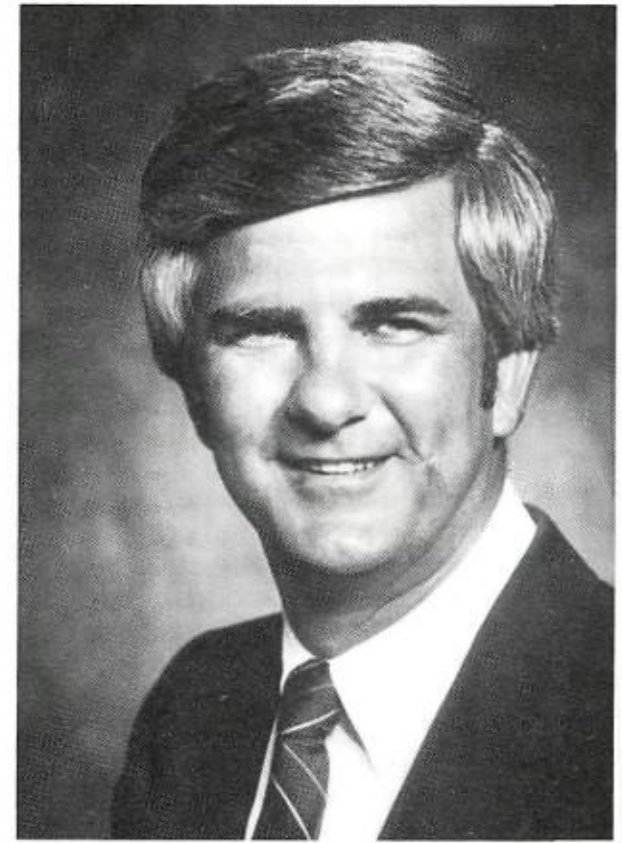

The staff of East Central High School is concerned about the students and strives to help them reach their best in today's world. These dedicated adults are helping each student find an identity they can be proud of. They give each student a feeling of hope for the future. They help the students understand and deal with their problems and reward them as often as possible. If not for all these understanding people E.C. would not be what it is today.

"Never Alone"

Board of Education

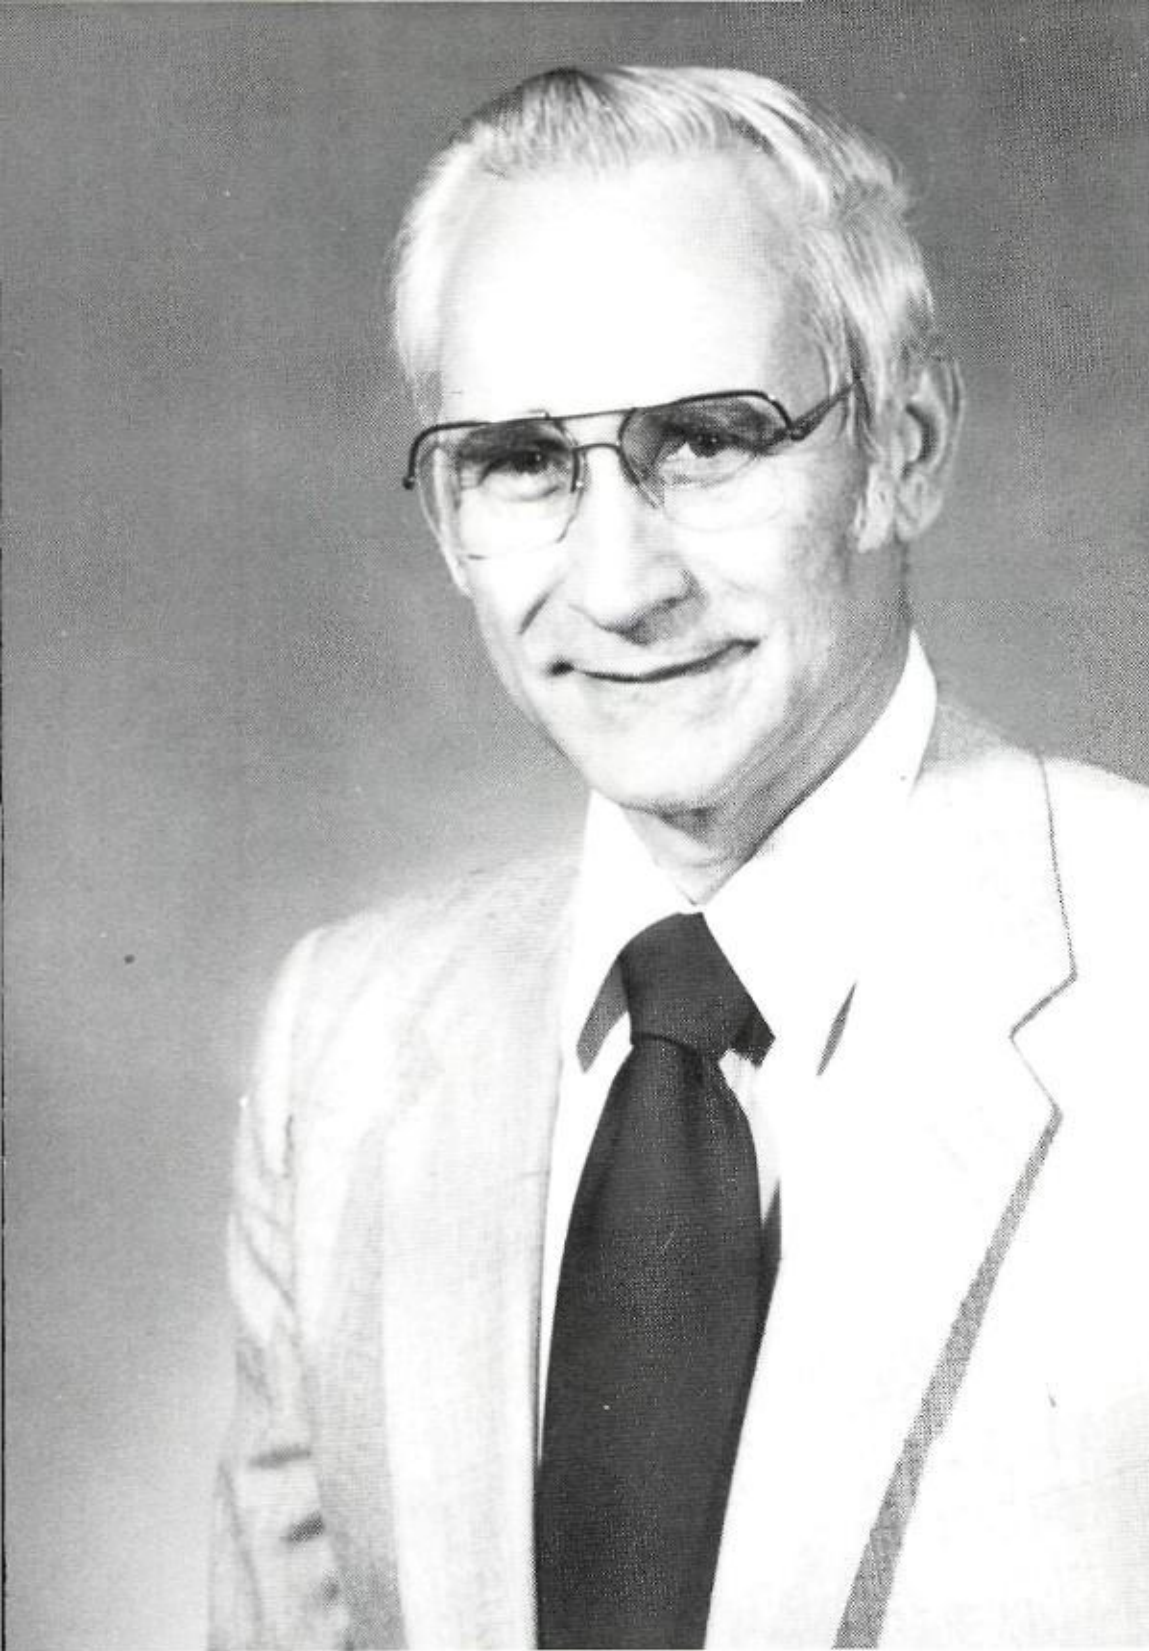

The Tulsa Public School Board of Education is comprised of civic minded, responsible citizens, who attempt to make the increasingly difficult decisions and policies governing our system. Unique difficulties, especially in the area of school finance, appeared with numerous standard sources of school revenues retreating from former obligations. Dr. Larry Zenke, superintendent, had his job cut out for him this year.

Principal's Message

"This has been a good year for many students. The number of success stories will be many when the year is completed. Success, fame, fortune and your future are very directly associated with your own decisions and priorities that you have set for yourself. No student or adult can achieve without assistance and assurance from others. In essence, we can not exist alone for any great period of time.

May your future be as bright as your optimism."

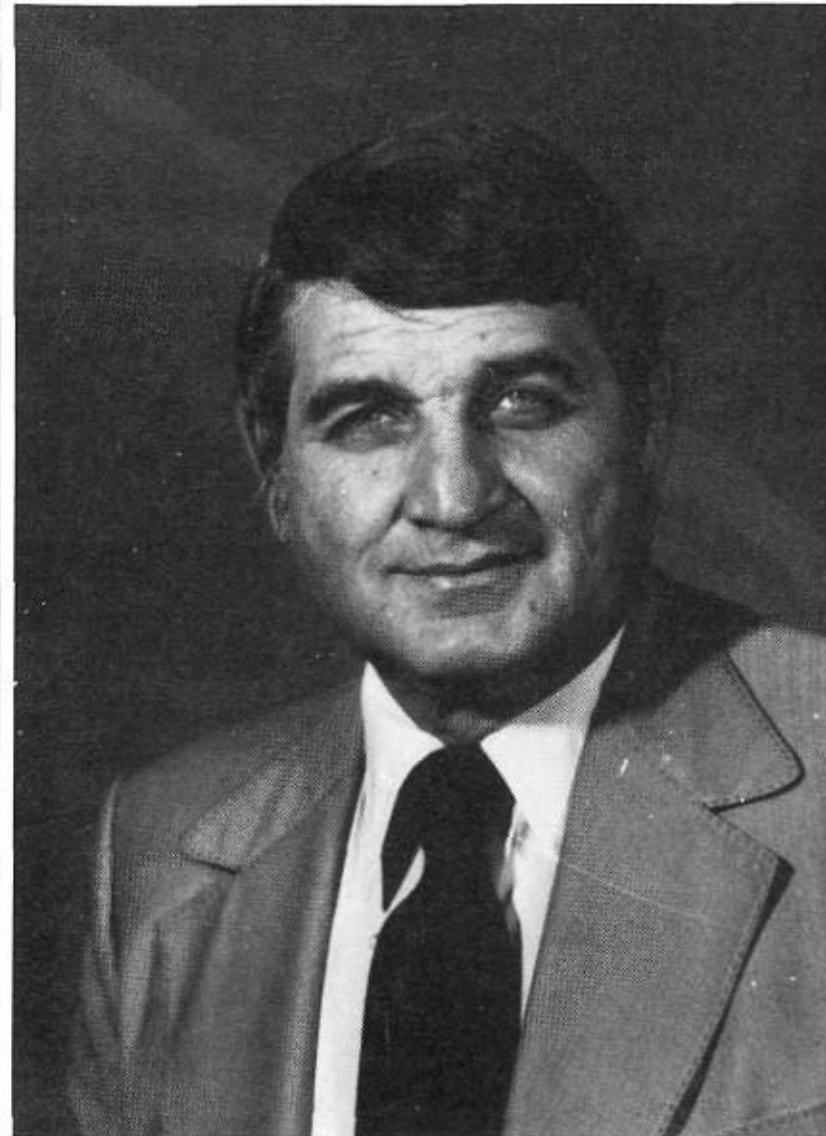

- Dr. James M. Darland, principal

Mr. George Dorsch

Assistant Principals

The assistant principals are not only the right hand men of Dr. Darland, they work to keep East Central one of the best schools in Tulsa. The assistant principals at East Central are Mr. Smith and Mr. Dorsch. These two men have been devoted Cardinals to the students, and faculty. The basic philosophy of their duty is to promote and encourage harmonious and ethnic relationships and academic and cultural improvements among the staff and students. They are to assist the principal in establishing and improving the instructional program of the school. When it comes down to it, if its got to be done, they do it.

The counselors of East Central High School are concerned with the future of all East Central students. When a counselor dedicates himself to a particular student, and accomplishes something this makes him feel he has been doing his job as well as he should. It becomes a rewarding experience for him. Counselors are not here because they have to be, it is because they want to be. They are here to help students through high school, inform students about college, and get them ready for the outside world when they become adults. Counselors also make recommendations for college scholarships and job opportunities. They work individually with each and every student helping them to understand what to look for in the future.

The foreign language classes here at East Central are Spanish, French, and German. This year all clubs held their annual foreign language week; every day something new and original happened. Through the week the students would wear buttons and T-shirts representing the classes. They also had an open house for all faculty. Foreign language classes are a help in college. Some universities require at least a year of a foreign language to be accepted.

The Cooperative Work Study Program consists of tenth, eleventh, and twelfth graders. The tenth graders attend academic classes all day, while the eleventh and twelfth graders attend school half a day. Three hours a day are spent either in a vocational training program or receiving on-the-job training. East Central is one of the few high schools in Tulsa to have a Work Study Program. We are very privileged to have this program in our school.

Support Personnel

The East Central Support Staff, includes the cafeteria workers and the custodians. One of their duties is to prepare and serve the cafeteria food for those students who cannot or choose not to leave the school at lunch. The custodians duty is to pick up and clean the cafeteria and make sure that the building is presentable. A special thanks should go out to these employees for their support and help through out the year. They are indispensable to a good school.

The East Central clerical staff worked hard to keep the school offices in order and assisted in keeping the school flowing smoothly. Clerical support staffs at E.C. include the secretaries of the principal and assistant principals, registrar, schedule revisions, and the bank and bookstore personnel. Without all of these people, East Central would not be able to uphold it's tradition of smooth flowing and trouble free processes.

I sing the body electric. Nothing could express better the exhilarating feeling that these Cardinal athletes have felt. They have given their all for a few meager moments of glory and fame. Through victory and defeat their Cardinal spirits soared high. These photographs and memories are only a part of what they will carry with them from these "electrifying" experiences.

Varsity Football

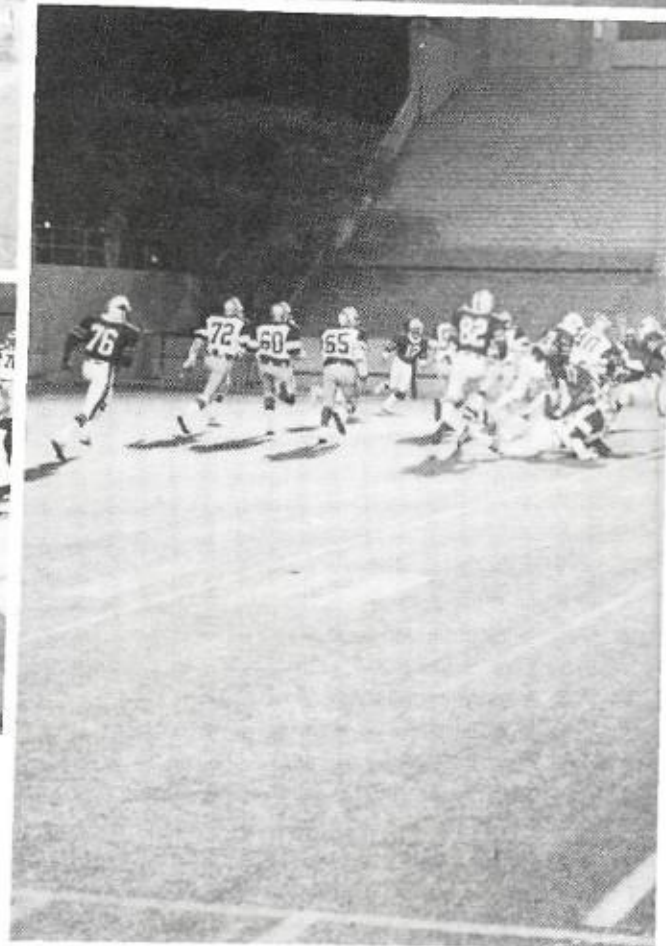

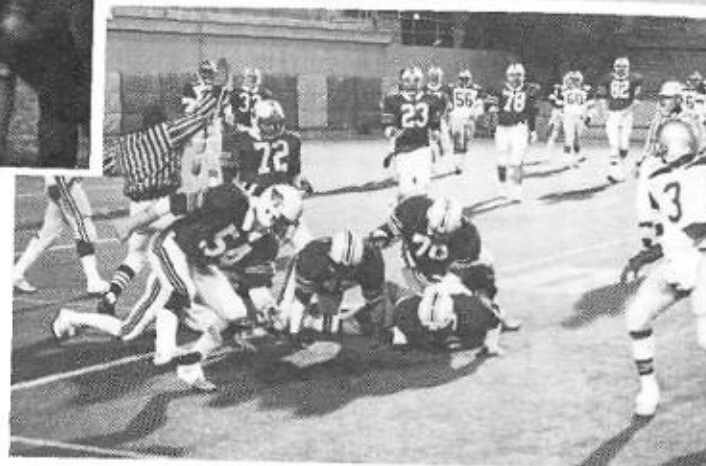

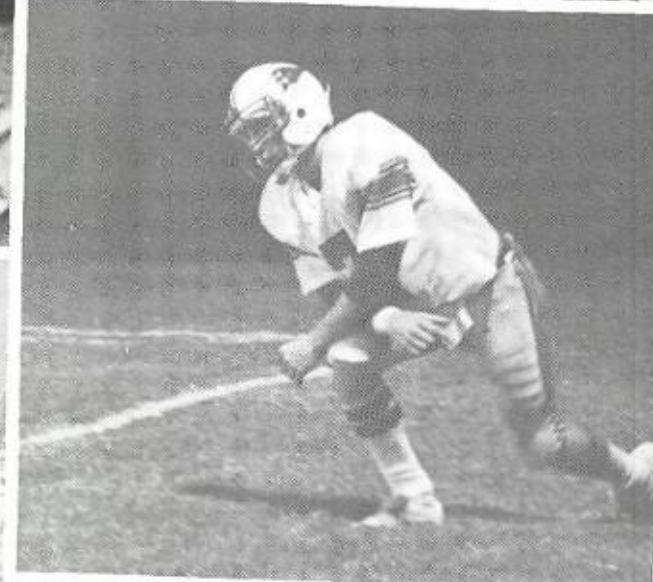

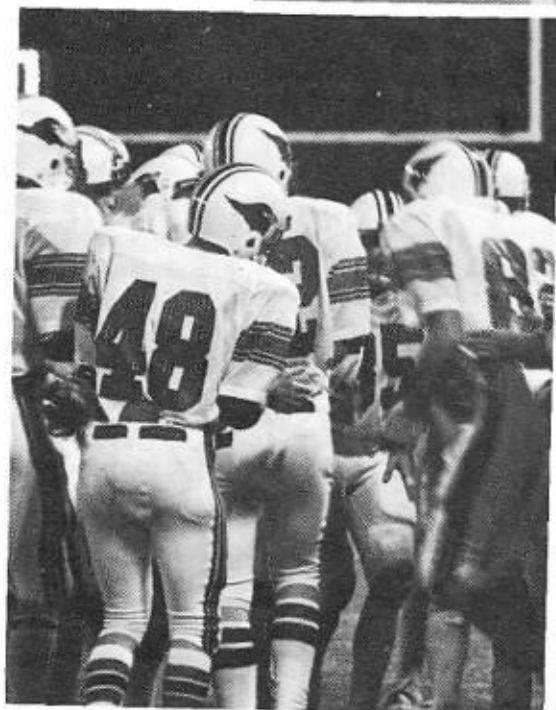

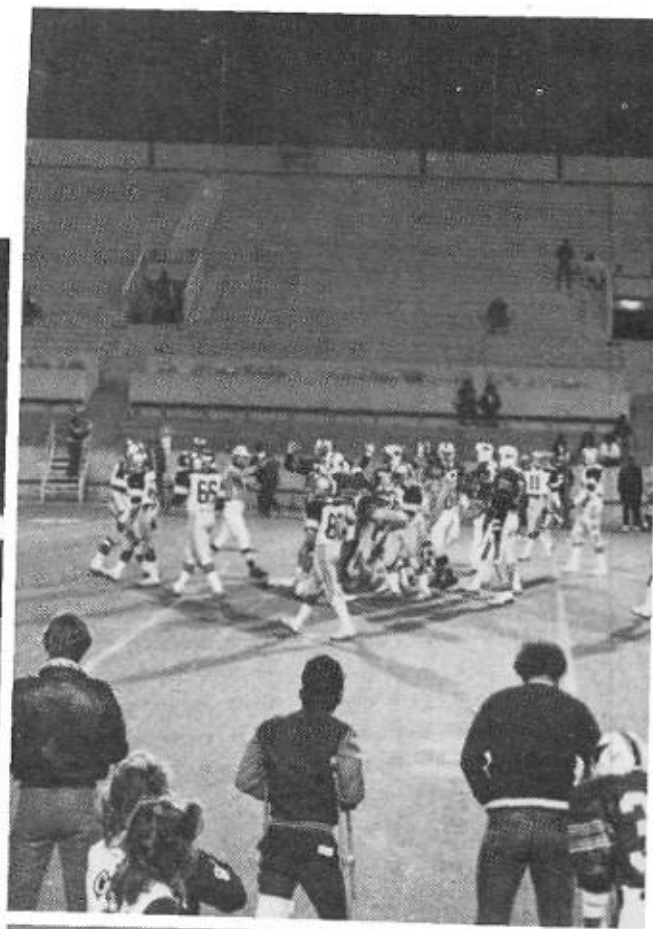

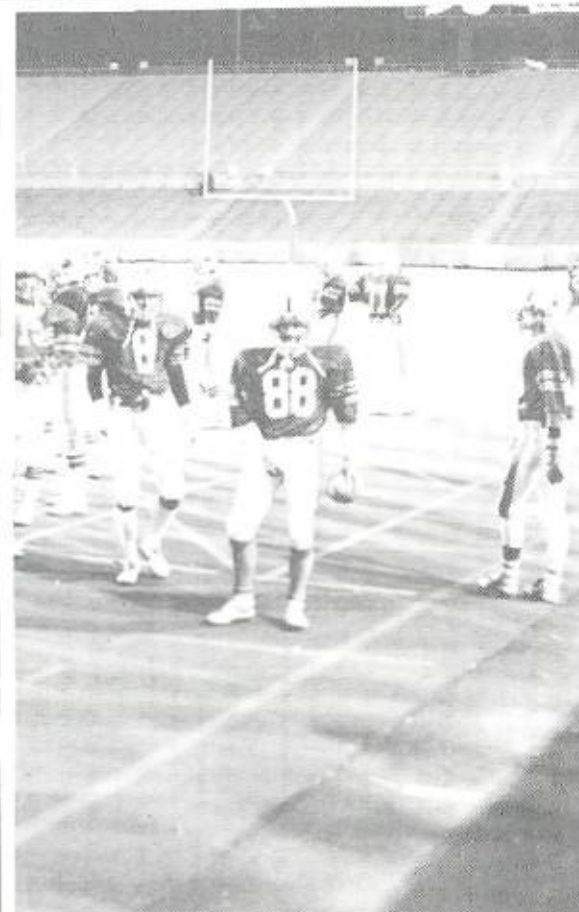

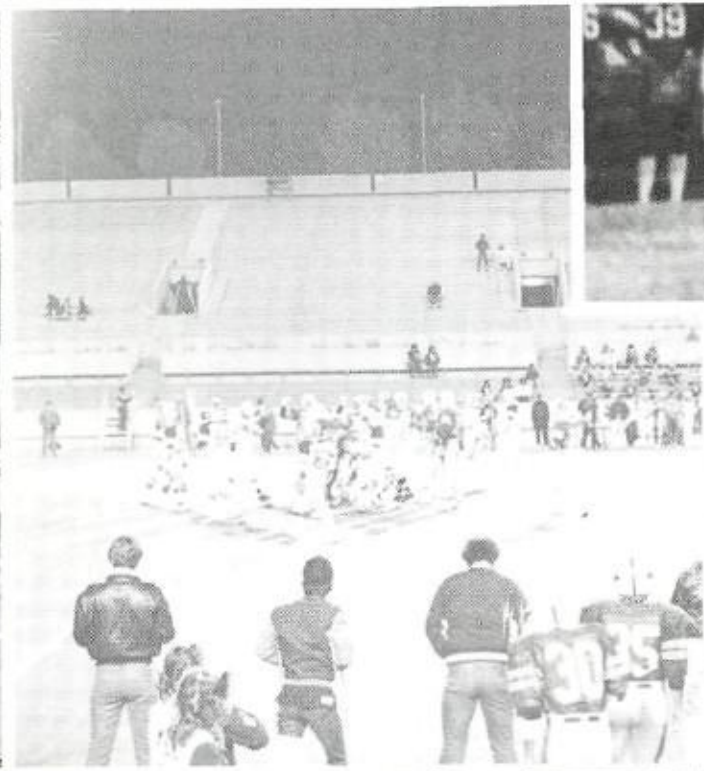

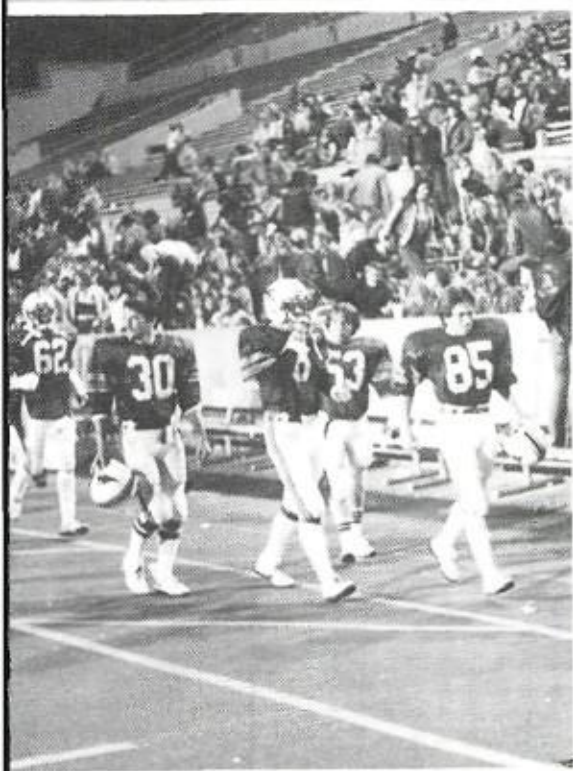

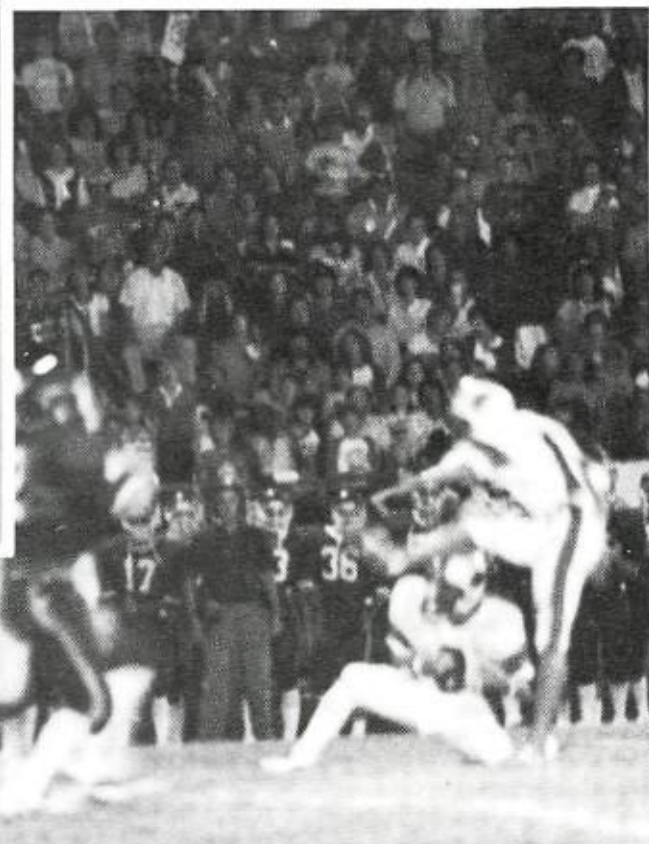

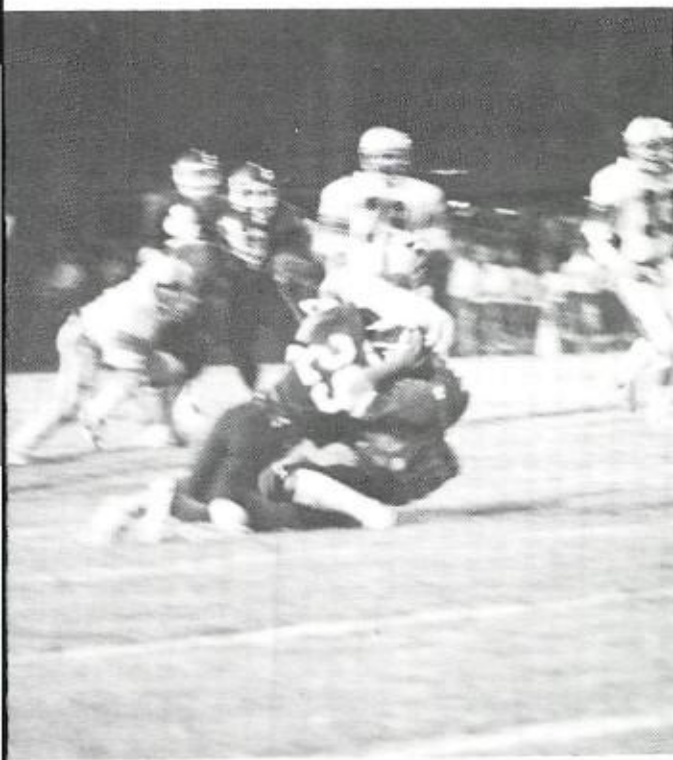

Although their record, 2-8, doesn't show it, the team worked hard to achieve a winning season. Coach Mark Gibson transferred over from Webster High School this year. He brought with him a fresh set of standards and values. The spirit and enthusiasm during the season was tremendous, as represented by the four senior "Baldies." The team though not always victorious always kept up the traditional Cardinal spirit, and never once let down all the E.C. fans.

Varsity Seeks Fame

Sometimes the question has been asked, "Are we men or mice." Well in the case of four East Central football players it seemed more like the Marines. Although their field behavior doesn't always show the real them, sometimes candid shots can catch some people's absolute hunger for attention. Whether it be with the sacking of the quarter back or with the winning touchdown, some guys will do anything for glory. Sometimes they may even "dress" for the occasion.

Junior Varsity Football

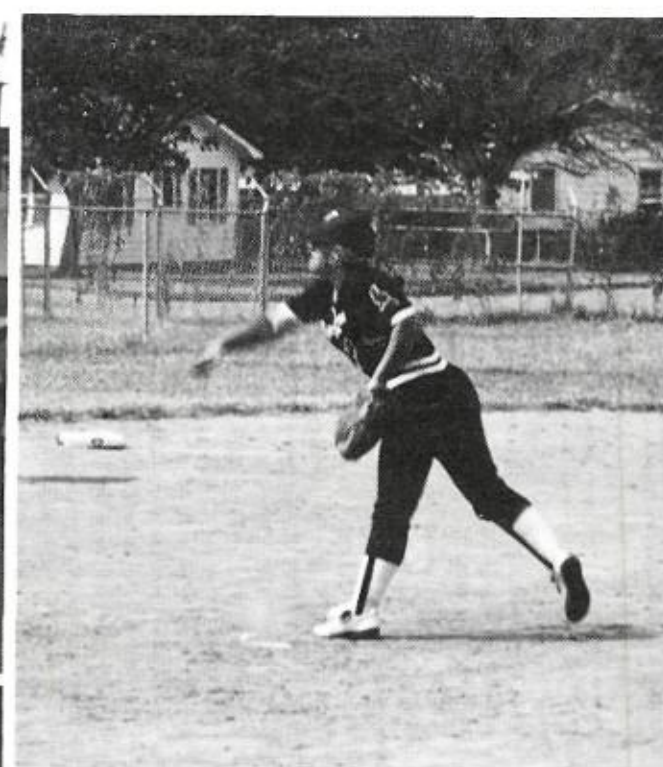

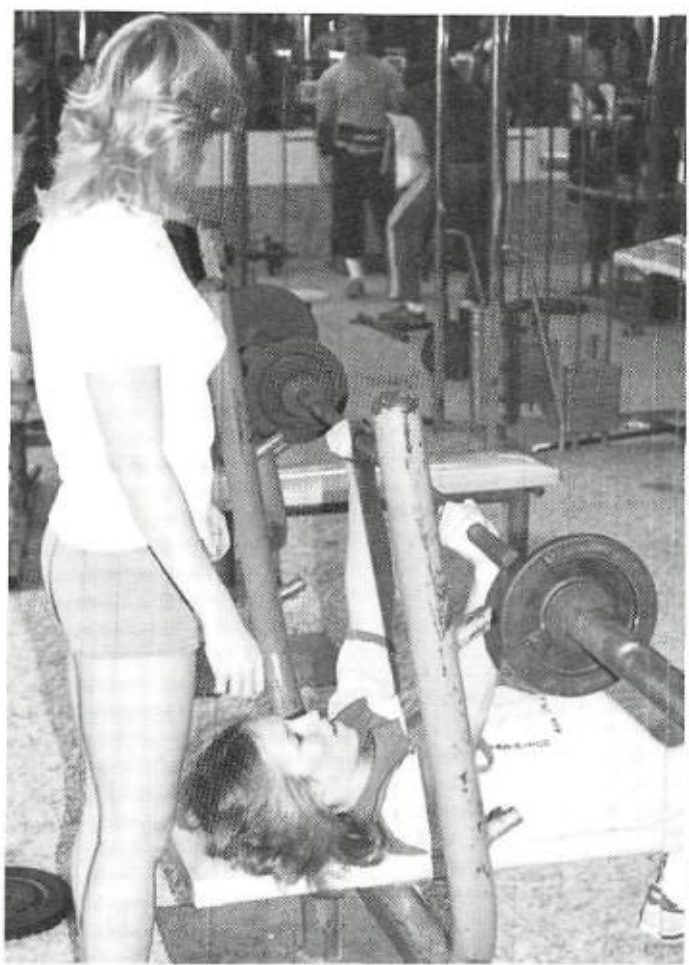

This years Junior Varsity football team was coached by Leon Luce and Roy Gage. They worked hard and practiced with the varsity team most of the season. They were energetic and excited. Robert Crow said, "We are looking forward to the upcoming year and excited about the great sophomore talent. Coach Roy Gage, new to East Central this year, transferred from Central High School. Most of the guys agreed in saying that he was well liked and he has a lot of enthusiasm.

Stauffer's Girls Softball Team Are "He-Women"

This years' softball team, led by first year coach Dave Stauffer, had a great year even though they failed to make the state tournament. Along with an overall record of 18 wins and 6 losses they were named the '82 Hale tournament champs and the '82 Conference champs. Although they will lose five seniors next year, the team should still be strong enough, both physically and mentally, to gain the state championship.

Not pictured are: Sherri Burns and Shelly Coltharp.

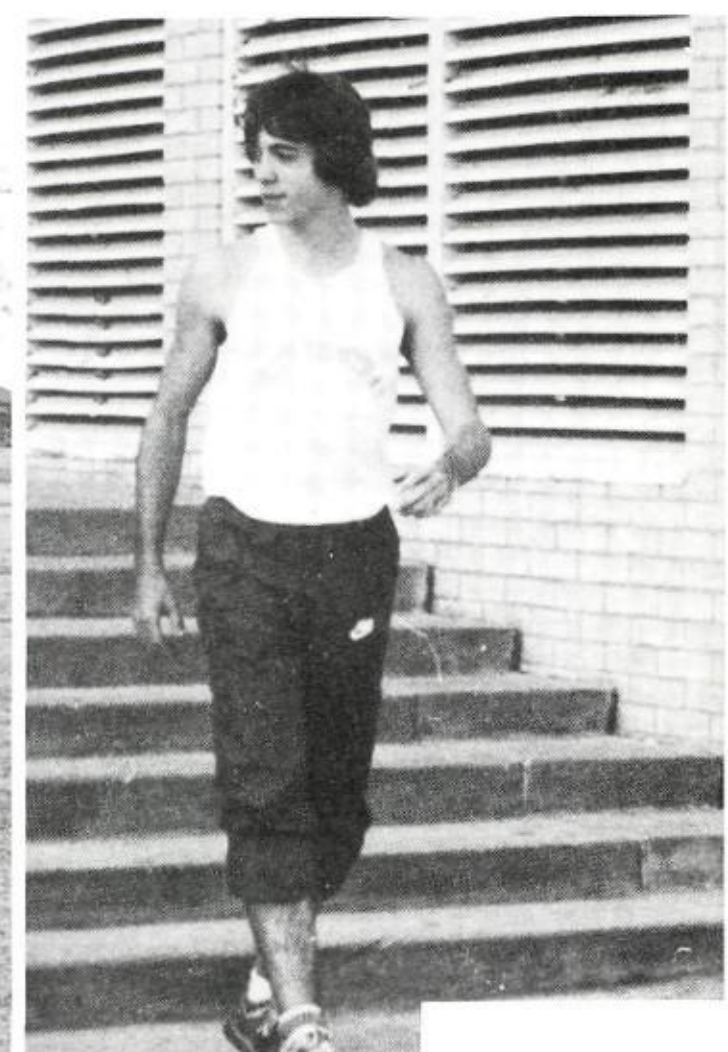

This years cross-country team was sweating it out every afternoon of their season. The first two weeks of practice the team was running twice a day averaging 10 miles. In the middle of September they had two meets against other schools. Their first two meets were held here, which E.C. won. The third meet took place at Rogers and five schools competed against each other, E.C. placed third. Senior Randy Rice placed 10th in conference and 31st in regionals.

Gymnasts Flip For Fame

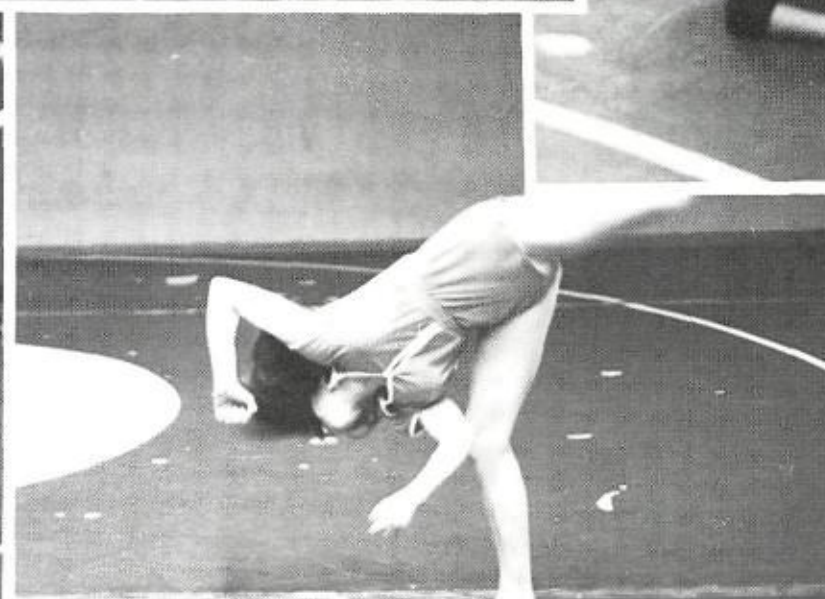

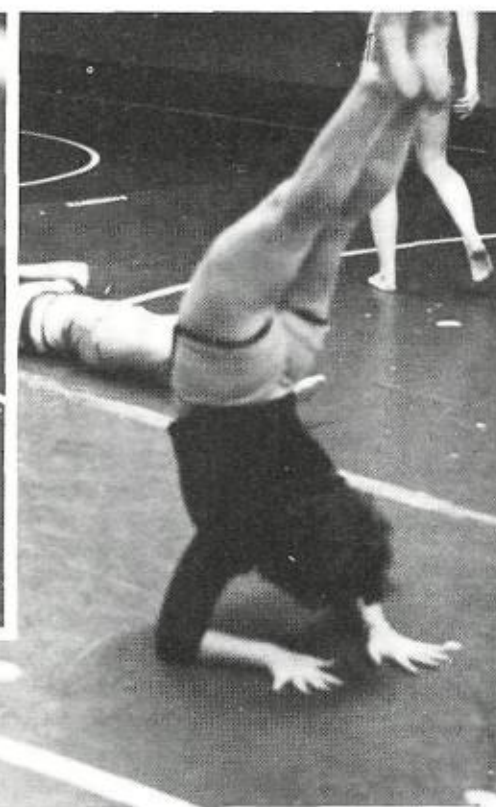

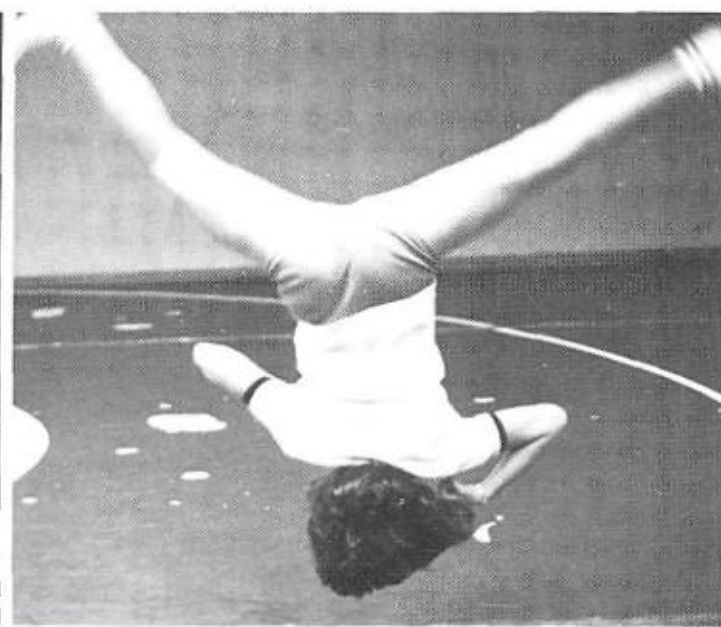

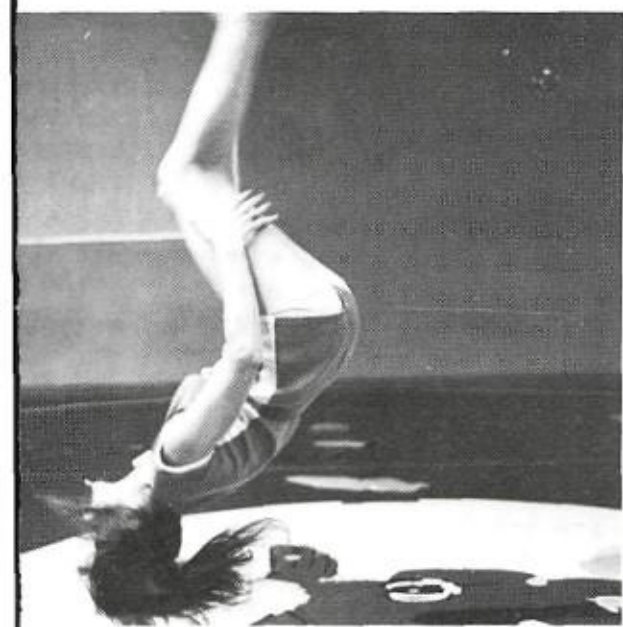

The gymnastic team was really excited and motivated this year. The team worked out every day during first hour. They performed tumbling and floor routines. The team did not compete against other schools, but they did put on an exhibition at the Tulsa State Fair in which selected groups made up floor routines. At the end of the year the team put on an assembly to demonstrate their athletic abilities and individual, as well as team accomplishments.

Boys Varsity Basketball

This years Varsity Basketball team was coached by Roger Lefler and Raymond McGill. The team consisted of eight seniors and five juniors. The team played very well showing that hard work pays off. With returning lettermen Chris Hughes, Shawn Baker, Sean Ward and Ocie Fulson, they really "put it to" the other teams. The guys showed compassion and dignity along with a lot of "Cardinal Spunk", which of course is normal Cardinal behavior.

J.V. Boys Basketball

The East Central Junior Varsity boys basketball team played very well under the coaching of Raymond McGill. The team consisted of eight juniors and seven sophomores. Coach McGill had a positive attitude about the entire season. Andrew Tarver, junior member of the team, had high hopes at the beginning of the year. He said, early in the year, "The Junior Varsity team was really good this season, and we planned on winning a lot of games."

Sophomore Basketball

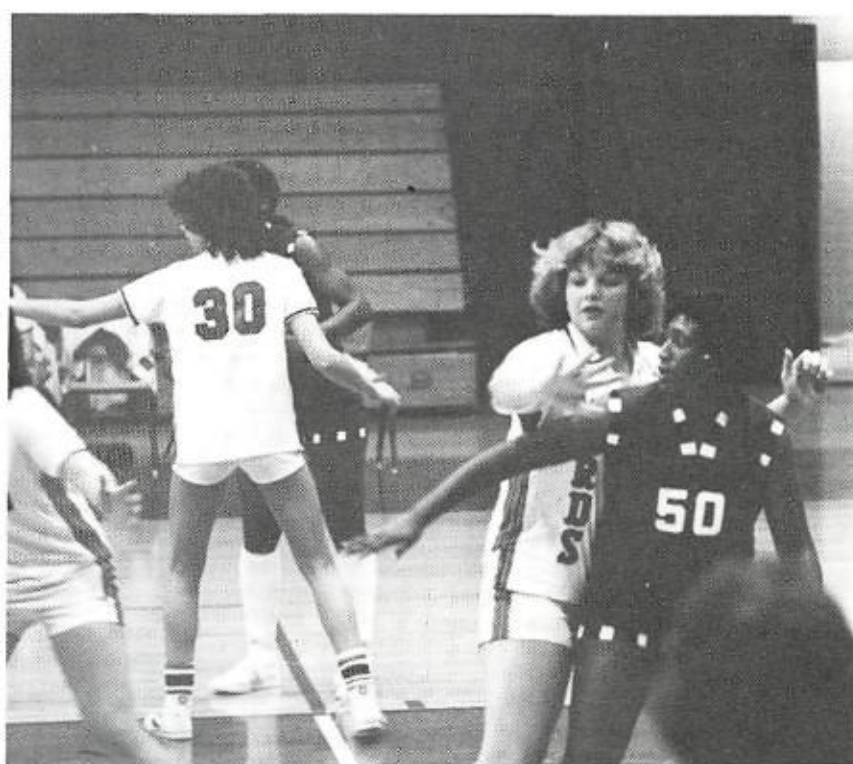

The Sophomore Basketball team was coached by Raymond McGill. The team this year consisted of 13 sophomores. The team played their first game against Broken Arrow Tigers on November 29. The two scorekeepers this year were Gina Carner and Annette Brown. The manager was Angela Boulanger. Billy Hampton stated, "I was really excited about playing this year; Coach McGill is a good coach. The team did pretty good, showing a lot of eagerness and optimism."

Girls Varsity Basketball

The Lady Cards Basketball team consisted of seven seniors, and eight juniors and sophomores, with six returning "letter-women." The schedule of the girls was one of the toughest in the state which included games against several top ten ranked teams. The lack of experience made the task even more formidable. Even though the Lady Cards lost most of their talent the previous year they still kept their Cardinal Spirit. Regionals were held Feb. 22-26 and State, March 10-12.

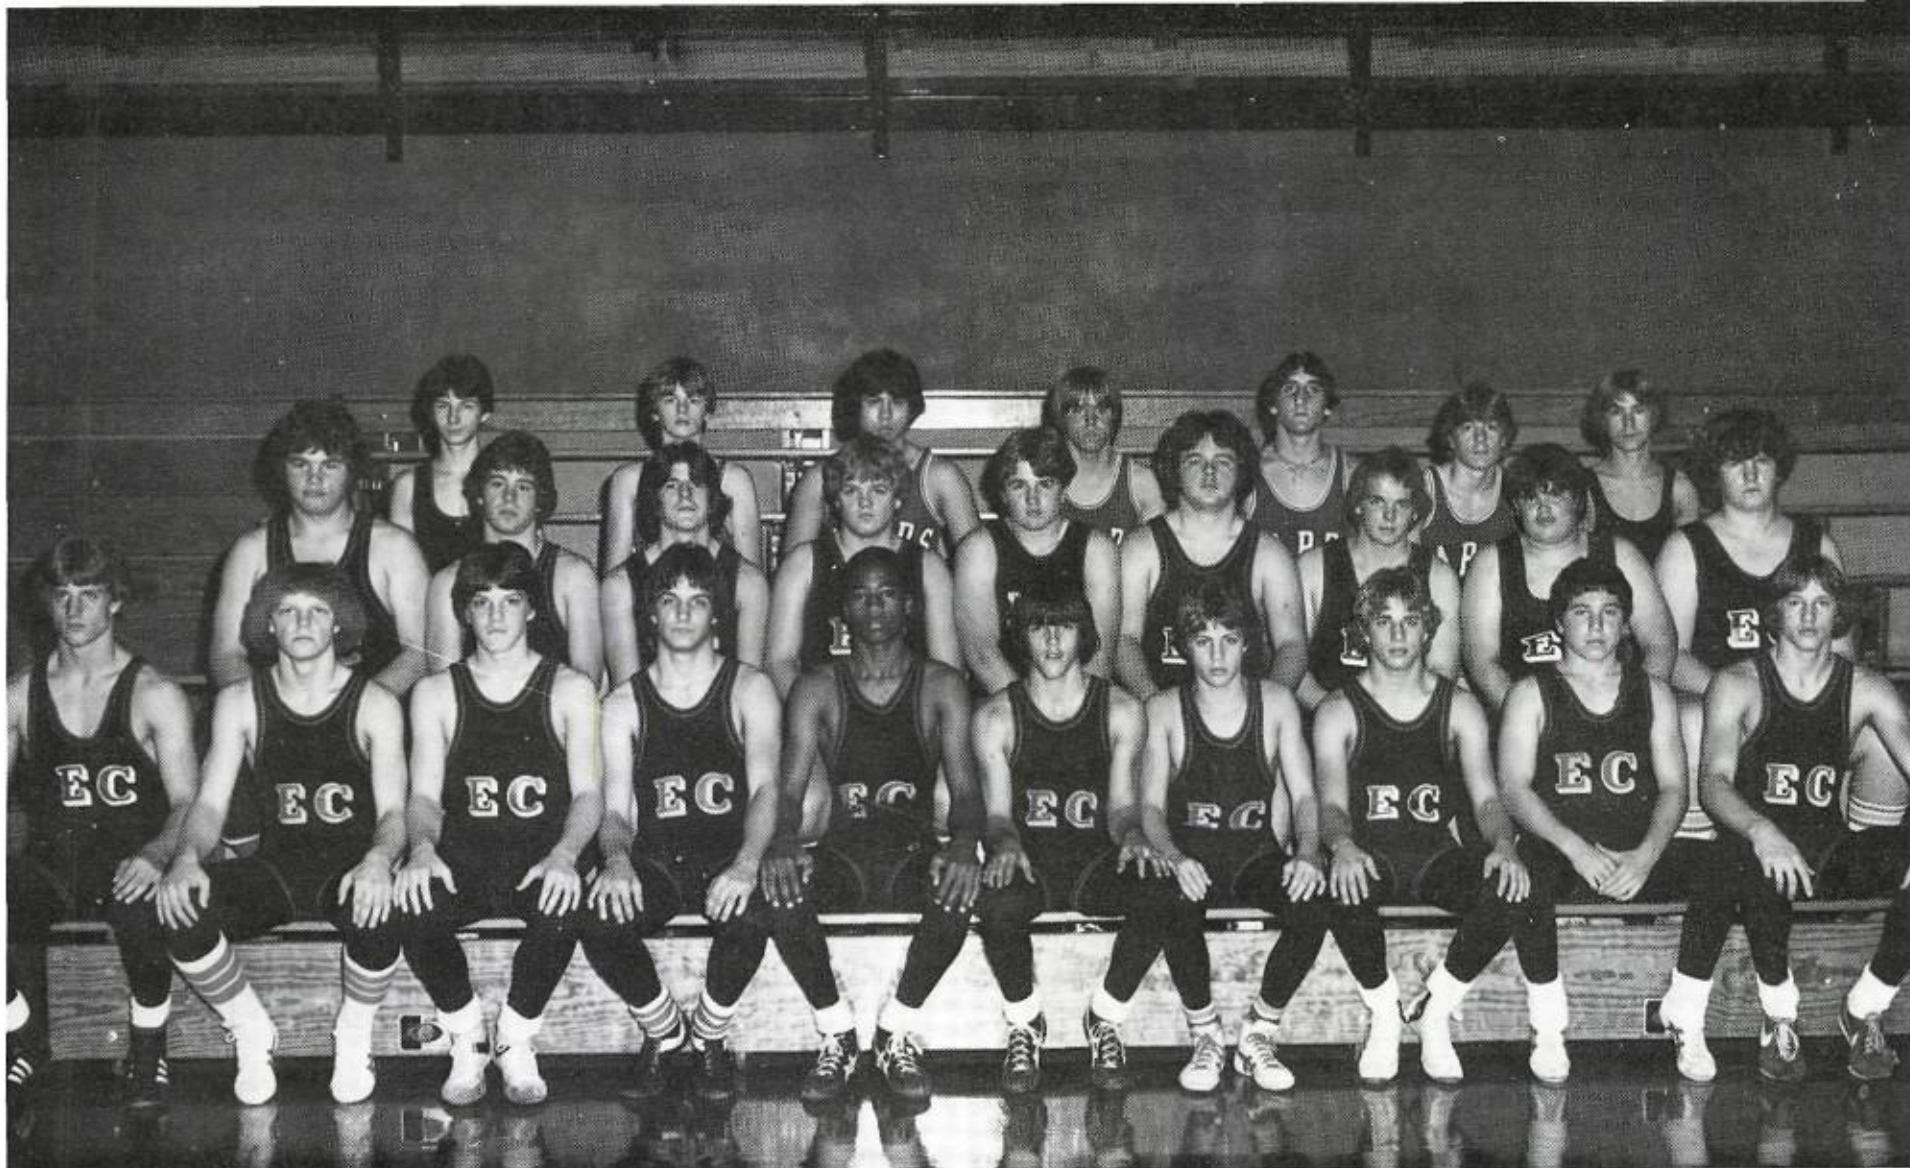

J.V. Girls Basketball

The 1982-1983 East Central Junior Varsity Girls basketball team consists of ten sophomores and seven juniors. The lady cards were coached by Mr. Jack Krieder. The girls had a pretty successful year and worked hard. They started practicing at the beginning of the year and kept up the tough practice all year long. The girls practiced every day, along with the varsity team fifth hour and part of sixth hour, until the boys varsity came to practice.

This year's wrestling team was coached by Jim Baker. The team consisted of seniors, juniors and sophomores. This year there was a surprising number of sophomores that wrestled first weight, many beating out some of the seniors that had previously held that weight. There were five sophomores and even one freshman. Steve Coop, one of the privileged sophomores wrestling this year commented, "I felt honored to have represented my school the first year I attended."

The '82-'83 Cardinal swim team, consisted of 26 members, four seniors, six juniors, eight sophomores and eight freshman, that were recruited. "The team had a quite successful year," said Mrs. Penny Thomas, "and they were very, enthusiastic about they're accomplishments." The team practiced sixth hour every day until about 4:00 p.m. Swimming four to five thousand yards daily, one could say the swim team stressed, "practice makes perfect."

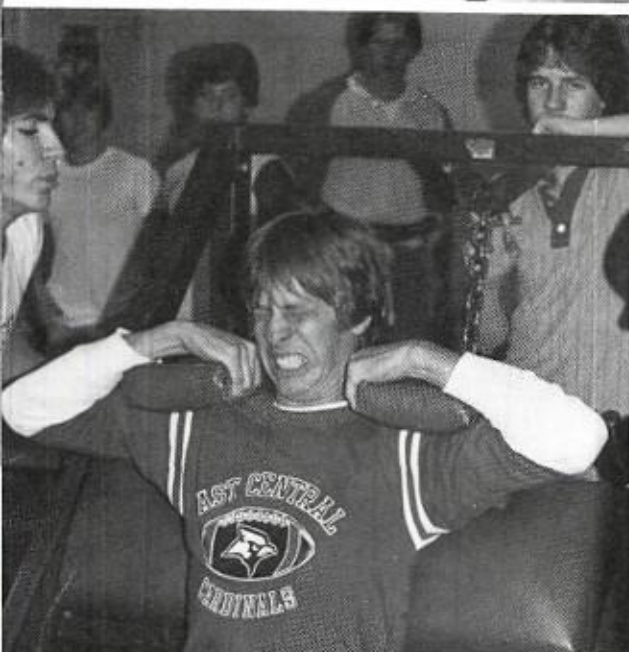

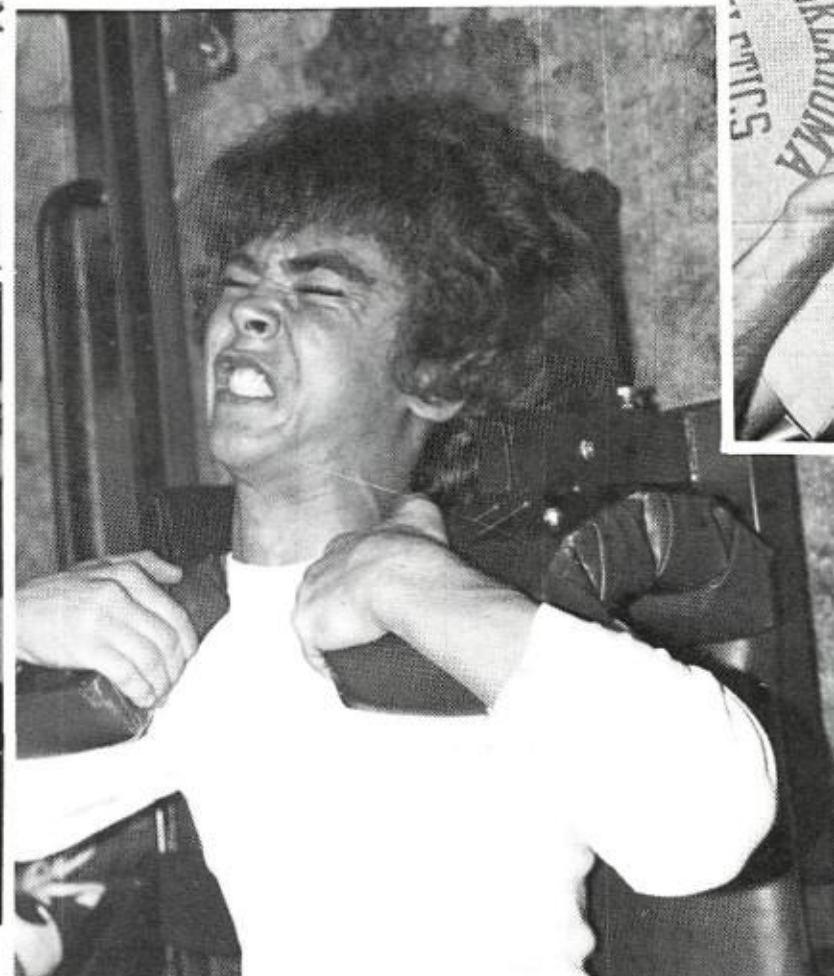

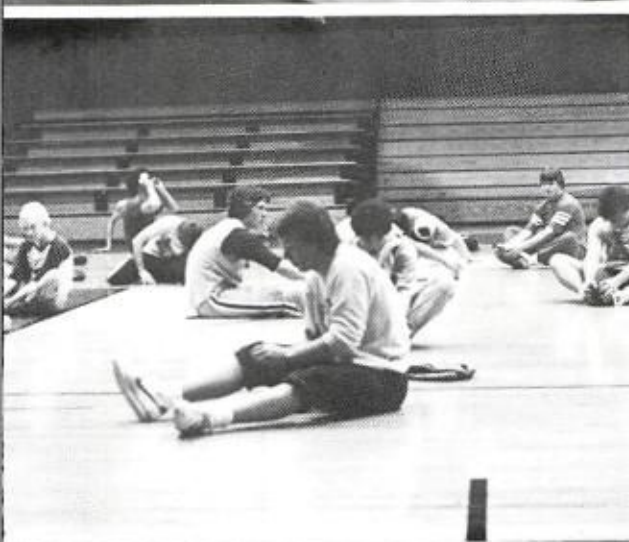

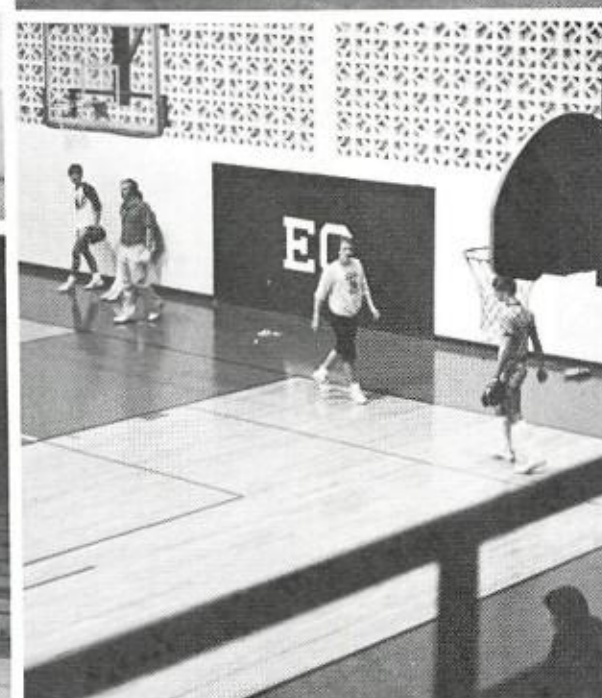

Baseballers Warm-Up for Spring

This year Varsity baseball team did return five starters of last years State semi-finalist team. Earl Hayter (354 B.A., 3 HR's, 5 triples, 7 doubles, 18 stolen bases) was the lead returning hitter. The pitching staff was a strong one with 6 seniors leading the way: Kent Keener, Mickey Marrs, Joe Welch, Kent Callicoat, Clayton White and Joe Lovelace. East Central had plenty of speed this year with Mike Bailey, Dale Ward, Sean Ward and Earl Hayter.

Junior Varsity Baseball

This years Junior Varsity baseball team was under new head coach Mr. Jim Baker. The team consisted of one freshman, twelve sophomores and six juniors. Although the team should have had plenty of talent, the lack of experience on the pitching mound might make the difference between having a good team or a great one. Junior Varisty had a tough schedule this Spring, playing 15 "league" games and more depending on tournament games. Of course the main key was pitching.

The 1983 Track season was coached by Jack Krieder and Roy Gage. Mr. Krieder coached the boys while Mr. Gage coached the girls. The first track meet was March 5 at Jenks. They started off the year excited and determined to gain recognition. Jamie Brackett stated, "This being my senior year I wanted to reach the goal I had set last year in high jumping; I feel I gave it my best shot." The team had a lot of dedication and spirit this season."

The Ups and Downs of Tennis

The tennis team started preparing early for the year's season. Leon Luce coached the 1983 team with a prosperous outlook. Coach Luce said, "I was really excited about the team this year, because of the fact that we have almost two to three times as many girls enrolled." Their first match was held March 10 against Rogers. State was May 2-4 (girls) and May 9-10 (boys). All home games were held at Hicks Park. They had an "excruciating" schedule.

"A game whose object is to sink a golf ball into each of the 9 or 18 successive holes on a golf course by using as few strikes of a golf club as possible and avoiding various natural or artificial hazards is golf." This years Cardinal golf team was coached by Mr. Doug Manning. The entire team started off with an enthusiastic look toward the season. Returning letterman Chris Crawshaw stated, "We had a prominent and quite prosperous '83."

Club Sports: Girls Soccer . . .

This year soccer team led by Coach Dan Adyelott, was divided into two teams, girls and boys. Last year the city divided the girls into districts in which E.C. was among other top schools. The team consisted of four seniors, nine juniors and six sophomores. The boy team consisted of ten seniors, nine juniors, six sophomores and one freshman. During the year the team showed a lot of team work and remarkable skill. Coach Adyelott said, "I am really proud of both my teams."

"A game played on a rectangular court not exceeding 60 feet in length by 30 feet in width usually by teams having six players to a side by volleying a large inflated ball with the hand over a net 8 feet high." (Webster's Dictionary). This year's team was coached by Penny Thomas. Twenty-four girls tried out for the team while only twelve made it. The girls played two matches a night; a match is two out of three games. This was the teams 3rd consecutive year.

It was performed three nights, one more performance than in the past. Catalinas practiced every day 4th hour except Friday when they held their business meetings. They were coached and sponsored by Penny Thomas. The officers were Kelli Londagin, Charlette Lowther, Kay Pankey, Sherry Meyers and Hyland Skaggs.

Organizations

One of the most important extra-curricular activities that keeps a school going is its organizations, along with the people who work in them. Through this section you will find the people who strive for fame in the group setting. When a student joins a club he may very well be saying, "Is It OK If I Call You Mine?" A feeling of belonging is a good feeling for most anyone, especially our flocks of spirited cardinals, who like it in their nests.

Student Council is a highly recognized organization at East Central High School. They raise money all year, through candy sales and dances. At the end of the year, they use the money earned to purchase something for the school. Last year they raised the column in the round. This year our Senior Cheerleaders went to the OSU Summer Cheerleading Camp. While they were there, they won many first place ribbons and a spirit stick. They cheered for the Varsity Football and Wrestling games. The cheerleaders used their 6th hour class period every day for practice. The senior cheerleaders have to maintain a 2.5 grade point average. Pam Batchelor is the captain of the squad, which was a very close group during the year.

The Junior Cheerleaders went to N.C.A. Summer Clinic held in Wilberton, Oklahoma. There, they won 4 superior ribbons and a spirit stick, were voted Most Spirited Squad, and were awarded Runner-Up to the Award of Excellence. The Juniors cheer for the Varsity boys and girls basketball, and swimming. This year, they sold balloons at the Varsity football games with the sophomore squad. Kelly Sikes is the head cheerleader of the squad.

This Year's Sophomore Cheerleading Squad went to the TU Summer Cheerleading Camp and were awarded Runner-up to the Award of Excellence. Although they did not cheer, they sold balloons at the Varsity football games. This winter, they cheered for the JV Football team and JV girls and boys basketball. They practiced all summer and during the week, after school. Barbara Behl and Kim Bayles stated that they love their squad and work great as a team.

Pep Club

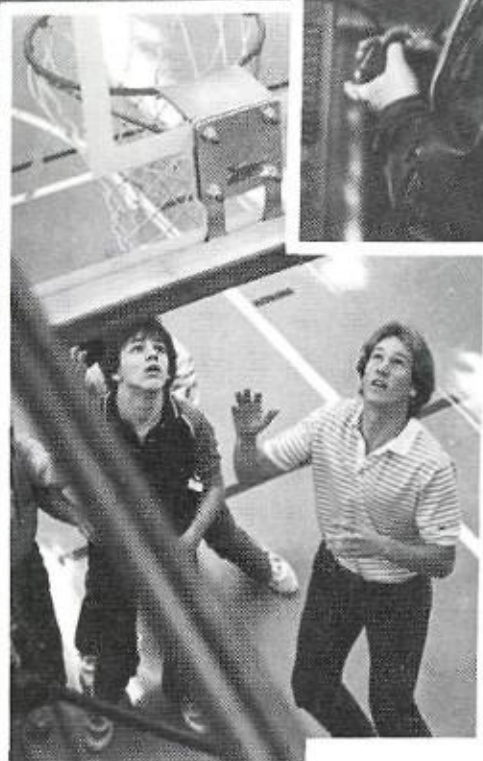

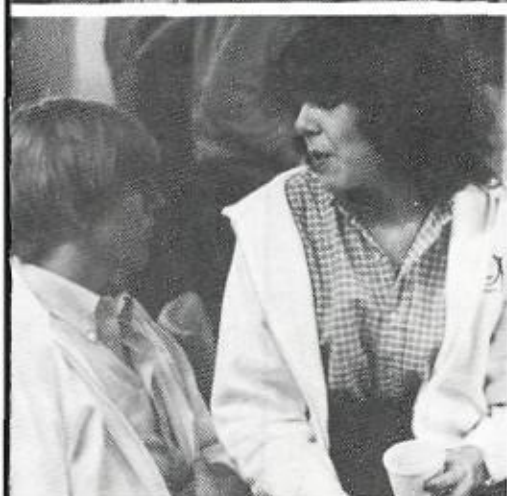

East Central Pep Club is sponsored by Mrs. Debbie Davis. The President is Tesie Bateman, Vice-president, Tammy Murray; Secretary/Treasurer, Tracy Lamont; Acting Chairman, Dana Treat; Spirit Chairman, Teresa Cottrell. This year Pep Club sponsored all Pep Assemblies. At every practice, the football players had this summer, Pep Club brought favors to them. They sponsored the door decorating contest and "Punk Day" contest in which prizes were awarded to winners.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

This year's Fellowship of Christian Athletes was sponsored by Mr. Dave Stauffer and Mr. Leon Luce. FCA is a place for fun, fellowship, and witnessing among fellow christians. It also gives students a place to meet people and to relax. It is a club consisting of students involved in sports, cheerleading, and Pep Club. Occasionally there were meetings open for all. Their activities consisted of a scavenger hunt, hay rides, and ice skating.

French Club

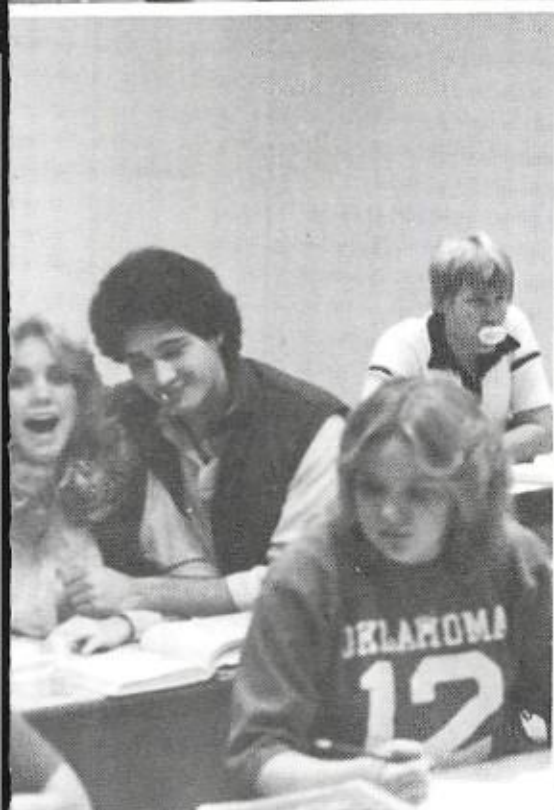

Le cercle francais est une des plus grandes organizations de l'école. Cette année, il y a quatre-vingt cinq personnes dans le cercle francais. Nous faisons beaucoup de choses interessantes comme une soirée de Noël (nous chantons des chansons francaises) une soirée de Saint Valentin (nous échangéons des valentins), et aussi un grand dîner (nous faisons la cuisine francaise). Nous avons un projet de service année.

This year the German Club had a "new" sponsor; his name is Mr. Schulte. Mr. Schulte had been teaching English in Germany last year through teacher exchange, and we are glad to have him back. This year started out by having a party for the members of the club to get acquainted. The members liked it so much, more similar events were planned. Officers for the year were Ed Hulse, president; Jeff Hailey, vice president, and Hoang Nguyen, secretary/treasurer.

Spanish Club

El Circulo Espanol gozo de un buen numero de actividades este ano. Para commenzar el ano, tuvimos un desayuno mexicano. Un restaurante mexicano autentico era el sitio de una reunion. Para celebrar la Navidad cantamos villancicos en el Hospital Saint John's. Despues tuvimos una fiesta con pinata. Participamos en la semana de lenguas extranjerass, vimos fotos de Chile, y terminamos el ano con una merienda. Adios Amigos!

This year's International Club has been very active. They had pot luck dinners for Thanksgiving and Christmas and had many fund raisers. They had their annual M&M candy sales and sold mistletoe for Christmas and flowers for Mother's Day. This year's AFS student, was Simone Scholtens, from the Netherlands. Joe Running and his family were her hosts. Simone Scholtens was a very out-going student and we enjoyed having her at East Central.

Enjoying working with computers, doing higher forms of math, and more is what this club, Mu Alpha Theta, is about. Mu Alpha Theta is a national organization, which was started in the 1950's by Richard Andre, professor of mathematics at O.S.U. it gives students an opportunity to go places, meet new people and to listen to mathematicians talk about opportunities in the math field. This club also sponsors the national math test every year.

FHC

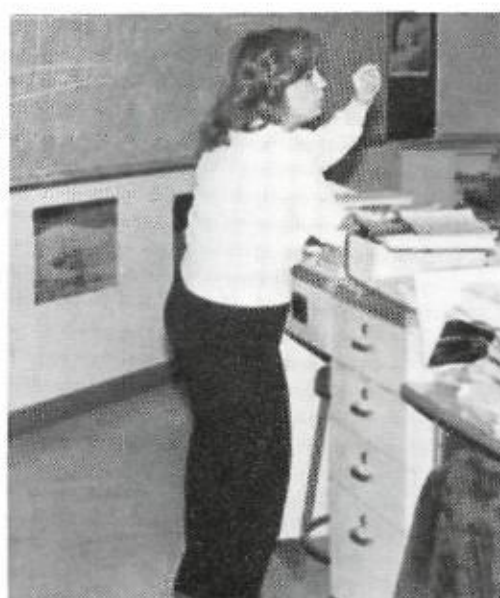

FHC or the Fellowship of Heathen Chemists is an "Underground Organization" with no officers, dues, by laws, constitution, or meetings, except the initiation which is highly secret and is done at the beginning of the year. Fellowship of Heathen Chemists started as a joke that snowballed. The chemists do nothing all year, but do have a poster child who is Tony Pacheco. They worship the god of Chemistry which is Elom, who sees all, knows all, and tells nothing.

The purpose of the Secondary Education Division of the Tulsa County-Area Vocational Technical School is to provide areas of education in both vocational and technical fields that are economically infeasible for individual high schools to provide. This type of education helps students in programs, so that they will have a background upon their employment or to continue formal education after graduation. Credits are recorded on the students' high school transcripts.

Distributive Education

Sponsor, Mrs. Debbie Davis

DE/Marketing and Fashion Merchandising is a class that involves a student in both classroom work and practical experience. The student attends class one hour each day and then after school goes to a job that he/she has selected in a retail business. While receiving this practical knowledge on the job, he/she gets a salary and an additional credit. DECA sweetheart was Kim Hill, Senior Attendant Gina Restline; Junior Attendants were Denise Brown and Jamie Stilley.

Library Club

The Library Club keeps the library in order and helps others to use it. They plan field trips to the Performing Arts theatre. The club also had a Halloween candy jar sale this year to raise funds. With these funds they selected an item to purchase which they feel will make the library a nicer place to study. Senior officers were: Sean Ward, President; Mickey Marrs, Vice-President; Laura Clapp, Secretary. Junior president was Jennifer Harmala.

Laura Clapp, Shawn Ward, and Mickey Marrs make the library a nice place to be.

Senior Class

Striving to make the class of '83 the best yet were Mrs. Doshie Chandler, President Jeff O'Dell, Vice-President Sherry Myers, Secretary Lily Clark, and Treasurer Dena Ames. Although having few fund raisers this year, the class raised $1400 through cookbook sales. The prom was sited at the Camelot Inn "Great Hall" May 13. Vespers service was Sunday May 22 at 4:00 p.m. Graduation was held May 26 at 8:00 p.m. at the Oral Roberts Mabee Center.

Junior Class

This year's Junior Class, sponsored by Mrs. Clifton had a very successful year. They spent it raising money for next year's Senior prom. Their fund raisers consisted of running the concession stand at all home basketball games. Also, at the beginning of the year they sold key chains to the student body. These key chains read: "Class of '83," "Class of '84," and "Class of '85." Another popular item through out the year was M&M's.

Mrs. Clifton, Sponsor; John Henry, President; Lynniss Watkins, Secretary/Treasurer; and Michelle Toney, Vice-President.

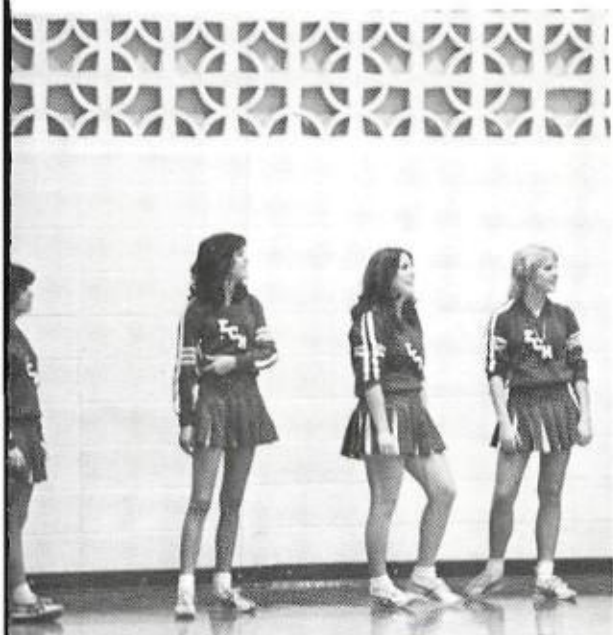

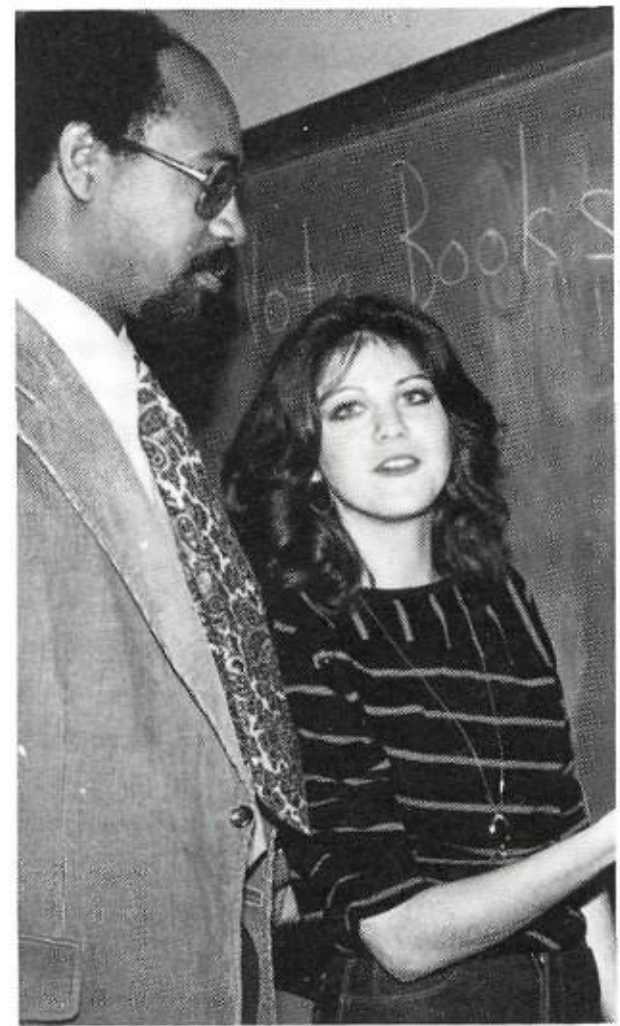

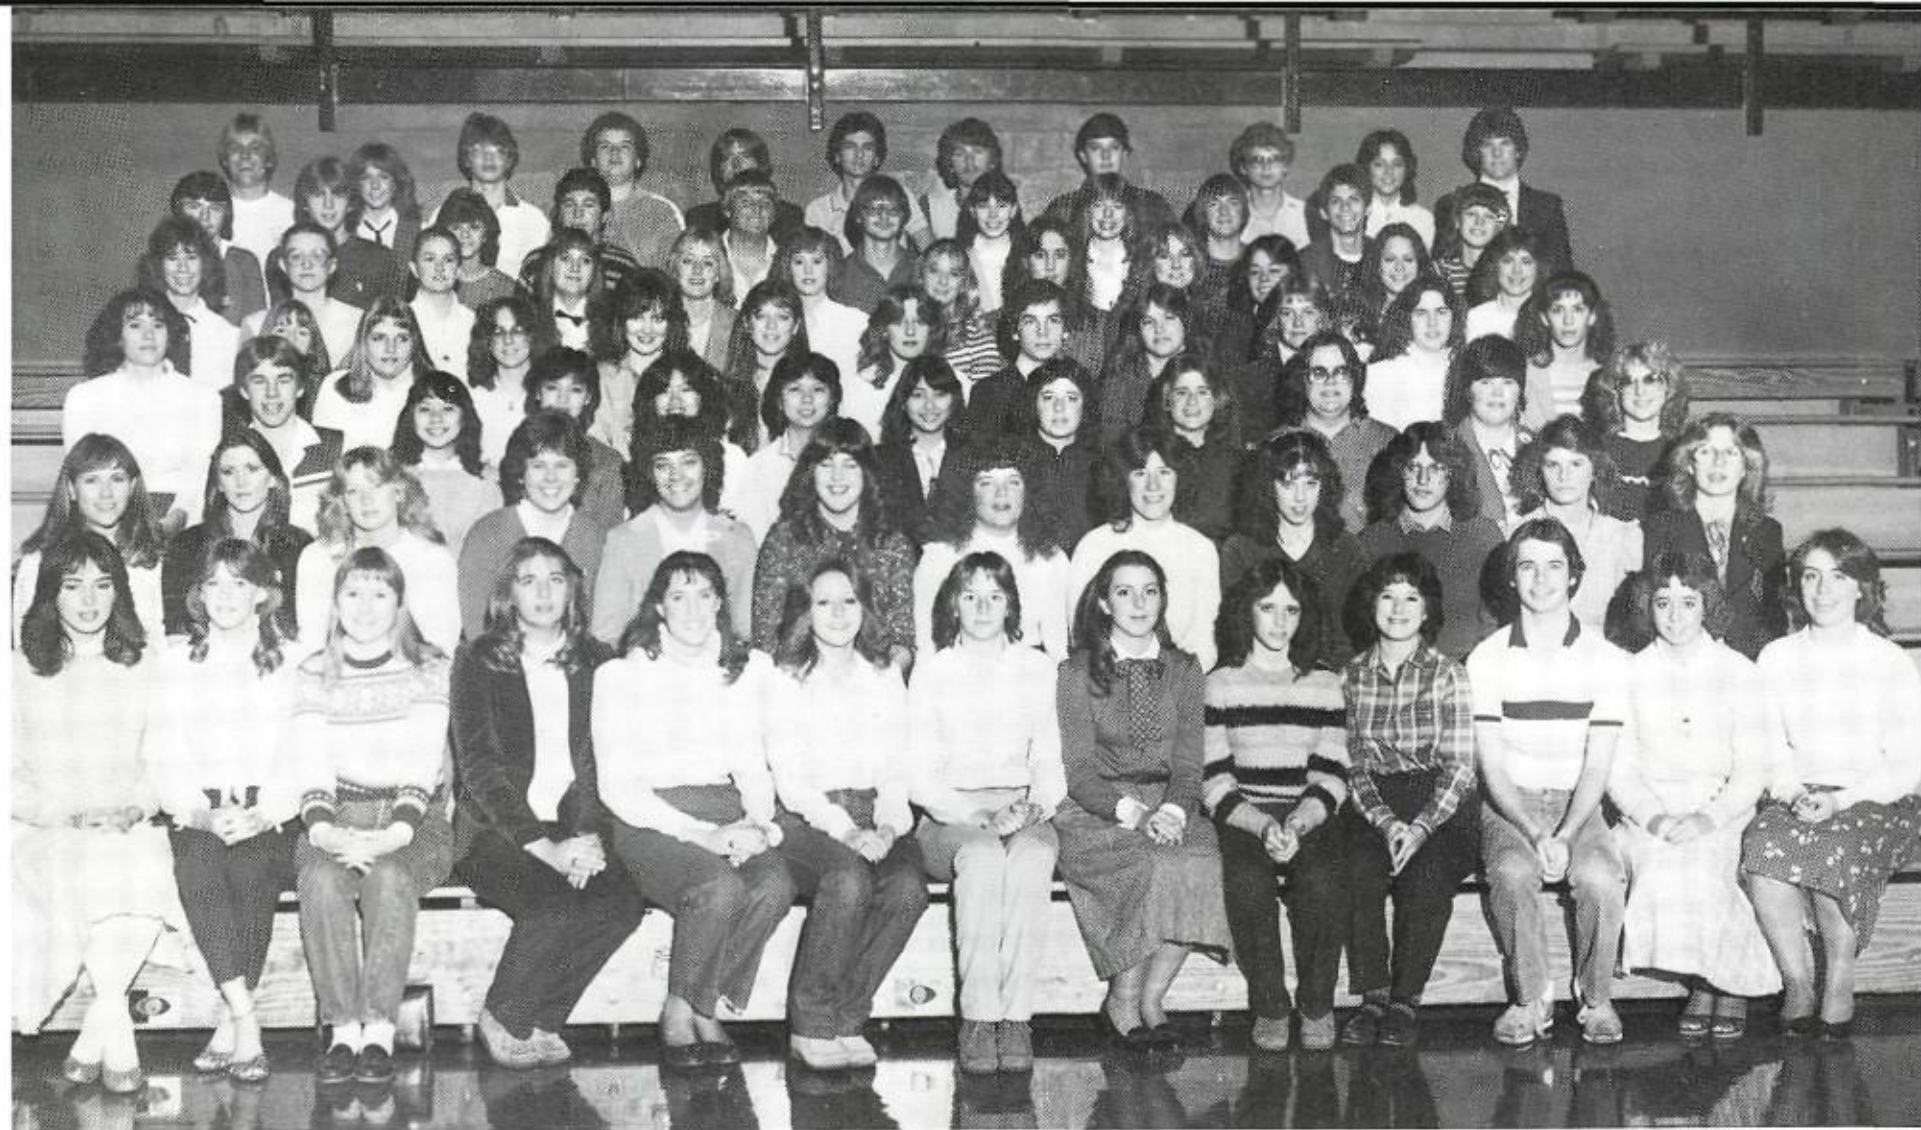

Mrs. Snyder, Sponsor; Jannifer Deason, Vice-President; Cheri Merideth, Secretary/Treasurer; and Maria Toney, President.

Sophomore Class

The Sophomore class has been very active this year. They have had many fund raising events such as car washes, shoe string sales, and candy sales. They made a lot of money and had a lot of fun doing it. They were a very spirited class and stuck together, supporting the Cardinals through it all. The Sophomore class officers are Maria Toney, President; Jennifer Deason, Vice-President; and Cheri Mereduh acting as Secretary and Treasurer.

National Honor Society

The East Central Chapter of the National Honor Society is an organization which helps people throughout the community. It is made up of elite students here at E.C. They missed a trip to Six Flags over Texas this spring and raised money throughout the year by selling candy to the student body. The N.H.S. officers were, President, Sherry Myers; Vice-President, Steve Martin; Secretary, Laura Kasar; and Treasurer, Connie Green.

The yearbook staff worked extremely hard this year to meet every deadline for producing the best and possibly the most exciting and professional yearbook ever. Although some like to take it easy, sponsor, Mrs. Judith Holt, applied pressure every day on the section editors and photographers, which often caused "flying tempers." Most of this year's staff were first year members, but were able to pick up on the "check my body" language and "crop my pix."

Journalism

EC's seventh Cardinal Tale Feathers staff worked hard this year to carry out the tradition of the award winning East Central newspaper. They raised money to keep the paper "going" by selling papers for 30¢, selling ads to community businesses and selling football mugs and calendar posters. Mrs. Judith Holt, was sponsor again this year. Her staff was made up of these people: Editor Karen Dross, Ad manager Renee Warren and Exchange editor Emily Portteus.

The yearbook has a special section for seniors entitled "Hall of Fame." The students elected to this honor are supposed to be well-rounded in school activities, not necessarily those of high academic standing only. The total Hall of Fame members may not exceed 10% of the graduating class. Each faculty member, counselor, and principal nominated these students who in their opinion were most deserving of this honor. These students best represent the meaning of Fame.

Performing Arts

The most predictable area for fame to be achieved is in the area of performing arts. These students are involved in band, drama, chorus, jazz, ensemble, technical theatre and orchestra. These students all enjoy what there doing and thats perhaps why they are more likely to achieve fame. They work hard and the harder they work the better they get. They can have pride in saying that this year they have achieved fame in the cardinal way.

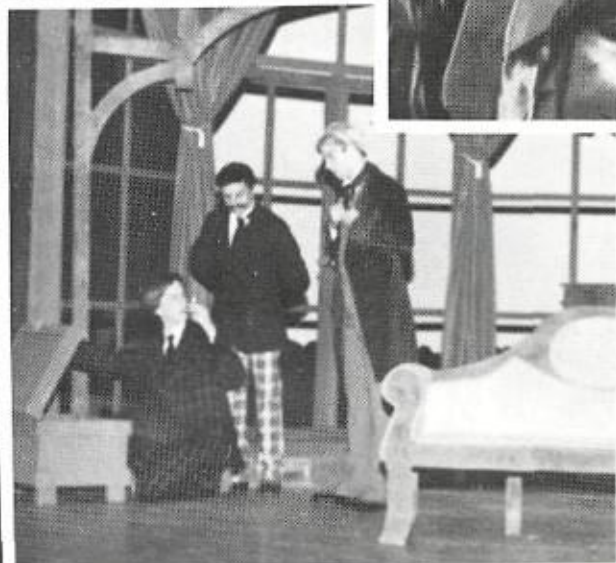

"Dressing Room Piano"

"The Uninvited"

"The Uninvited", was the first all school play of the year. It was considered scary, supernatural, and just plain fun. The story was based on a haunted house, and the cast included: Anita Daniels, Dona Royse, Jim Zito, Tesie Bateman, Kim Reddout, Lisa Chirkis, Teresa Hilt, Kyle Kisselberg, Danielle Balletto, Danny Torres, Sonia Campbell, Robert Foster, Crystal Schmidt, Emily Portteus, Doug Stallings, Fawn Hoskins, Barry McCoy, and Bill Andoe.

"Pinocchio" Followed the "Univited"

"Pinocchio", lead played by Danielle Balleto, was a great success this year. This classic story of truth and justice that tells how a young puppet earns the right to become a boy, was a special holiday treat for everyone, young and old. The remaining cast members included: Doug Stallings, Kim Reddout, Robert Foster, Barry McCoy, Anita Daniels, James Zito, Tesie Bateman, Kyle Kisselburg, Sonja Cambell, and Jamease Jacobs.

"The Odd Couple"

"The Odd Couple," another of East Central's all-school plays was a great success. The lead characters were Oscar, played by Daniel Ford, and Felix, played by Bob White. The play centered around these characters and their struggles between each other's contrasting personalities. It was a very fun show, and the cast had a great time. The remaining cast included, Danny Torres, Robert Foster, Doug Stallings, Kyle Kisselberg, Cheryl Searcy, and Jennifer Toyton.

Choral Music

The concert chorus and glee-club was under a new director this year with Mrs. Sandra Hayes. Due to the new and fresh ideas of Mrs. Hayes, East Central students were entertained at the Christmas assembly, one of their school activities. Traveling to area junior high schools, the concert chorus also performed. Our Cardinal singers sought Fame this year.

"Big Red Sound" Marching Band

East Central's Big Red Sound marched to fame this year at the Christmas parade and many other marching events. This spring the band hoped to take a trip to Amarillo, Texas. The band received new uniforms; they were corps style instead of the military style, which they had worn for the last seven years. The band can be seen early mornings outside of the school during the crisp fall, practicing for fame.

"Juniors . . . Juniors . . . Juniors . . .!" This was a common shout at pep assemblies this year for the Class of '84. Juniors rekindled friendships and a few people even grew up. Driving became an everyday routine and shoe polishing cars told friends you were thinking of them. Juniors admired the windows of the bank where the Class of '83 gathered with one thing in mind. They were ready to yell, "Seniors Rule," and no longer be "Dogs in the Yard".

The Junior Class started out the year with a great start. Being a junior meant a lot in the sense that they were no longer teased about being baby birds. It also brought to mind the thought of becoming seniors. As the holidays approached, the Junior Class sold Class of '83, '84, and '85 key chains for one of their fund raisers. The Class of 1984 wishes to thank their class sponsor, Mrs. Gloria Clifton for help and support through the year.

Sophomores

Friends are people who sometimes think alike, act alike, and yes, sometimes look alike in manner, clothes, and habits. This years sophomores were like that. Anyone who walked down the halls could see groups of sophomores literally welded together, searching for fame. Sophomores have a really close class and will stick together through graduation and long after. They started off with the regular jokes and teasing, but still came out like a cardinal.

The new arrivals to E.C., in time, fell into the swing of things. At lunch, not able to go out, sophomores were often seen sitting in the round talking with friends. If some had the energy, they would walk to Q.T. for a snack, and others would settle for the cafeteria. Since many couldn't drive, one might catch a member of the class of '85 on the phone calling parents for a ride home. The sophomores, through all the excitement, are ready to move on to better things.

Filled with smiles and excitement, the sophomores found themselves in a different building with different people. New friendships were made and old ones were rekindled. As the year rolled on, E.C.'s "baby birds" were finally getting settled in their new nest. Looking up to the juniors and seniors, one sophomore, Rhonda Roberts, was noted as saying, "I feel just like a seventh grader in junior high again." Sophomores don't realize, the best is yet to come!
